BANKERS SUPPORT AIMS

New York City Inclined to Restrict Speculative ActivitiesBULLETIN
Washington—(AP)—A bill to take from the Federal Reserve board its power to fix rediscount rates and to fix the rate at 3 per cent was introduced today by Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Cooperation with the Federal Reserve system and its policies is much more evident here than in other cities. Several of the bankers took the position that while there might be room for differences of opinion as to how to achieve the desired results, the necessities of the credit situation required a drastic curtailment of speculation.Inasmuch as there had been a disposition here to cut down speculative loans, the policy of the Federal Reserve became a valuable auxiliary to the banks in declining to aid in stock market operations.
Country banks have been appealing from time to time to the larger institutions here to help them out with collateral loans but the banks have held fast to their position and have not been inclined to question the borrowings at the Federal Reserve but have taken it for granted that the purposes for which Federal Reserve money was needed were beyond criticism.

BUSINESS NOT WORRIED

It is difficult to find anybody here who sees in the credit situation any immediate cause for business worry. The cost of borrowing for commercial purposes has gone to 6 per cent. It is not expected now that this will be a permanent condition but nevertheless it had some tendency to produce caution in future planning.Among the bankers here there has been some discussion of the speech made by Michael Cahill, president of New York State Bankers association, who told a group meeting that he believed better results could be obtained if the Federal Reserve instead of a policy of public threats.

LAVA FROM VOLCANO

BURIES JAP VILLAGE

Otaru, Japan—(AP)—The volcano Komaagatake, north of Hakodate, which has been quiescent for a decade, erupted today, the lava flow firing forests on the mountain side.
The ashes fell in nearby villages three to five inches in depth, inhabitants deserting their homes.

VILLAGE DESTROYED

Hakodate, Japan—(AP)—Fires originating from the lava flow of the volcano Komaagatake, which erupted today after having been quiescent for a decade, destroyed the village of Ikusagawa on the southern slope of the mountain. A train waiting at the station, enabled the villagers to escape.Other reports said that the village of Honetsu had been burned and that the larger village of Doru, on the western slope of the volcano, was endangered by fires.June the atlantic birdmen were plunged today into a long program of reception, dinners and celebrations. Although Paris seemed blasé to ocean flights, there was no disposition anywhere to let the feat of Jean Asolant, Rene LeFevre and Armand Lottu pass without recognition.The grinding, garrulous stowaway of the Yellow Bird, Arthur Schriber, sure of a harvest of greenbacks for the story of his free stolen ride over the ocean, gave his first thoughts of the day to getting spruced up for his stay in Paris. Colonel after his arrival here contented himself for a while with a suit loaned by one of the fourmen at the American embassy, but Schriber, whose home is in Portland, Me., said quite plainly that he wanted "some presentable clothes."Long before the aviators had arisen a crowd gathered outside of their hotel. When they arrived at LeBourget from Comillas, Spain, yesterday at 5:47 p. m., (1:47 p. m. Appleton time) not more than 5,000 people awaited them, the long waits of Friday and Saturday night millions against a greater number.

Relatives hugged, kissed and cheered them while members of the crowd put them on shoulders and carried them from the field.The first formal reception for the three aviators was that of the Aero club of France, set for this after-

MADISON EDITOR
SUED FOR LIBELTwo Seek $25,000 from Evjue for Story on Offer to SeversonMadison—(AP)—Sol Reese, deputy sheriff for Dane-co, today served William T. Evjue, editor, with copy of a complaint charging the Capital Times with libel and seeking $25,000 damages each for Harold H. Geisse, vice president and general manager of the Wisconsin Valley Electric company, Wausau, and Fred Genrich, attorney for the company.The libel was alleged on a story published by the Madison newspaper
June 3 and 4 under the eight-column
"top line" that Senator H. J. Severson had been offered $5,000 as a retainer to carry on condemnations of land for a new company high-line.The complaint, from Marathon-co circuit court, orders the editor to answer within 20 days to the charge that the article:
"Was printed and circulated of and concerning plaintiffs with malicious intent and naturally tended to bring this plaintiff into public hatred, contempt and disgrace and to injure his good name and reputation as a citizen and specifically as officers and directors of a public utility and was intended to charge plaintiffs had offered Severson a gratuity through the form of legal employment and pecuniary advantage resulting therefrom with intent to influence the vote, opinion, judgment and action of said Severson upon questions coming before him as a state senator."Severson's body was found in a swamp in Oneida-co. It lay across the ashes of a brush heap and was badly burned. The head was partly torn away by shotgun slugs. There were wires about the wrists and ankles. There was everything to indicate a torture murder and the police theory was that the victim had been a Chicago gangster, put "on the spot."When it was established that the man was Gisin and after his father had talked with authorities, police decided death was self-inflicted. They believe Gisin wrapped his legs and wrists with wire, backed himself against a tree in the center of a pile of brush which he had set afire and then fired a shotgun by a wire from the trigger to his feet.

$20,000 FIRE LOSS ON

FARM NEAR FOND DU LAC

Fond du Lac—(AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barn and two silos on the C. H. Brugger dairy farm, east of here, at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The loss totals $20,000.Seventy tons of hay, eight registered Holstein yearlings, a large grain supply and several pieces of farm machinery were lost.For a time, the flames threatened the homes of Mr. Brugger and his son, Max, but. Fond du Lac firefighters were able to confine them to the barn.When the fire broke out, Mr.
Brugger and family were preparing to entertain the directors of the county Holstein breeders association, of which the former is an officer.Mr. Brugger is making plans for the erection of a new barn, north of that destroyed.

STADL WORKS
TO BUILD CASE AGAINST GIESEHold Hearing in Municipal Court to Question Men Named in AffidavitsTestimony was to be taken before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Monday afternoon from a dozen men named in affidavits held by Stanley A. Stadl, district attorney, as having paid "protection" money to the sheriff's office.The hearing, to be held under John Doe proceedings under the state discovery statutes, is the next step in the ouster proceedings instituted against Sheriff Frederick W. Giese.
Whether the sheriff was to be called to testify was not known.Sheriff Giese, who last week was called in by Mr. Stadl and asked to resign, denied all the charges against him and plans to fight the ouster proceedings.The most damaging evidence against the sheriff is said to have been given in affidavits given the district attorney by Dan Kelly, former turnkey at the county jail and a deputy under Sheriff Giese. Kelly claims he acted as "go-between" for the sheriff and the men alleged to have been protected.Some of Kelly's statements are corroborated in affidavits given to the district attorney by men claiming to have paid "protection" dues.
Among other charges made by affidavits are that slot machines, confiscated in raids, were resold, and that prisoners were released from jail before the expiration of their terms.Sheriff Giese has branded the entire affair as a "frame-up" charging his enemies are "out to get me." He claims he has affidavits to refute all the evidence in the hands of Mr.
Stadl. He also claims he will make "stunning revelations."Evidence secured in the hearing Monday afternoon is to be placed before Governor Walter J. Kohler, who will be asked to name a referee to hear the charges against Sheriff Giese.

DEATH IN BADGER

NORTH WOODS NOW

SEEN AS SUICIDE

Rhinelander—(AP)—The "gangster murder" of the Wisconsin north woods was revealed today as a strange and elaborate suicide.The victim was Benjamin Gisin, 26, Chicago lithographer, amateur artist and writer. His father, Henry Gisin of Mound City, Kans., who came to claim the body, said the young man had been obsessed with the idea he was deficient physically, although actually he was almost athletic in build and strength.Gisin's body was found in a swamp in Oneida-co. It lay across the ashes of a brush heap and was badly
burned. The head was partly torn away by shotgun slugs. There were wires about the wrists and
dicate a torture murder and the police theory was that the victim had been a Chicago gangster, put "on the spot."When it was established that the man was Gisin and after his father
had talked with authorities, police decided death was self-inflicted. They believe Gisin wrapped his legs and

Neenah—The body of Henry Barkhahn, 60, a resident of Neenah and vicinity his entire life, was found Sunday afternoon in his car in a woods just off highway 26 six miles west of here.
Mr. Barkhahn, who had been in poor health lately, drove to the woods Sunday afternoon where it is thought he fell asleep in the closed car and suffocated by gas from the exhaust. The motor was still running when his body was found. He was born in town of Menasha where he resided during his younger days. Later he came to Neenah where he made his home with his sister, Mrs. Henry Maase, Sherry-st.Surviving, beside Mrs. Maase, are one brother, William Barkhahn of Neenah and a sister, Mrs.
Chris Kaphingst of town of

WOMAN AND 2 CHILDREN

FOUND BEATEN TO DEATH

Detroit—(AP)—Mrs. Anna Podolski and two of her children, each less than four years old, were found beaten to death in their home at River Rouge today. A third child also beaten, is in a hospital and not expected to live. The heads of the four had been crushed by a hammer which was found in the rear of the house. Police are searching for Mrs. Podolski's husband and a man to whom she formerly was married.
Chief of Police Walter J. Hendrick of River Rouge, said he believed the slayings took place about 4 o'clock
a. m., today. The woman was seen about that time by neighbors.Mrs. Podolski's former husband is reported to have been in River Rouge for the last two days. Her present husband has been missing for weeks.

was taken, had been amended so as to eliminate language which would have protected "the office of Mrs. Her-representatives and that he use his influence with the president to the end that incidents here in before al-

Washington—(AP)—Senator Bleese, Democrat, South Carolina, introduced a resolution today calling attention to the recent entertaining at the White House of the wife of Representative De Priest, Negro Republican from Illinois, but some of its language, especially doctored verse which it contained, aroused such opposition that Bleese withdrew it.Senators Edge, Republican, New Jersey, and Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, were especially vigorous in their stand against the measure.The resolution asked that "the President and Mrs. Hoover be requested to remember that the house in which they are temporarily residing is the "white house" and that Virginia, Texas, Florida, Tennessee and North Carolina contribute to "their becoming its custodians."Although the resolution was five of the survivors were landed treatment.One body, that of a woman, was

"It was about fifteen minutes after eleven when three miles out to sea that the plane began to come down in a fast glide. She struck the water with a terrific splash and then almost directly was seen to turn

Blame "Fire-Bug" For Three Sunday Morning Blazes

DEPUTY STATE FIRE MARSHAL IS NOTIFIED

Start Investigation to Determine Cause of Fires in Garages

Three fires believed to have been started by a "fire-bug" early Sunday morning, were being investigated Monday morning by Sergeant John Duval of the local police. Fire Chief George P. McGillan also has notified W. E. Finnegan, Green Bay, deputy state fire marshal, who is to come to Appleton to assist in the investigation.

Damage caused by the three fires is estimated by Chief McGillan at $2,200 and only prompt work on the part of the firemen kept the loss at this low figure, the chief said.

The first fire started in the garage and spread to the back of the house before it was discovered. A truck standing in the garage and a car behind it were damaged and the rear of the residence was badly burned. Damage was estimated at $2,000.

With one crew still fighting the Muenster blaze, a second truck was called out about 1:50 for a fire in the second floor of a two-story garage at the home of G. C. Steidl, 537 N. Lawrence.

Five automobiles housed in this garage were removed before they were damaged and the loss was confined to the second floor. Damage was estimated at $200.

The firemen fought the first fire from 1:12 to 2:20 and the second fire from 1:50 to 2:30.

Chief McGillan suspected incendiarism when he found that the second fire must have been caused intentionally.

When Ben Gerou, 512 N. Oneida-st., reported to the fire station Sunday morning that he had put out a blaze on the second floor of his garage at 2:05 Sunday morning the chief investigated and found that this fire also must have been started by some person. He said the nature of the fire and the place where it had started confirmed his beliefs.

Gerou discovered the fire when he returned from the Muenster fire.

ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR AIR-RAIL SCHEDULES

Los Angeles — (P) — Harris M. Hanshure, president and general manager of the Western Air express, yesterday announced his company had completed arrangements with 20 railroads to furnish an air-rail network linking Los Angeles and the Pacific coast with virtually all large cities in middle western, southern and eastern United States.

An airline opened to Kansas City from here June 1 over which a 13 hour schedule is maintained is the western link of the network. Immediate operation of the larger service was announced.

Forty-six hour service between Los Angeles and New York, 47 hours to Washington, and 24 hours to Chicago were announced as features of the system. Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Memphis, Tenn., Little Rock, Ark., Port Worth, Texas; Des Moines, Iowa; Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, Dallas, Indianapolis, Detroit, Cleveland, and Louisville are other large cities on the system.

FIND TORSO AND ARMS OF ALLEGED SUICIDE

Manitowoc — (P) — The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Jacob Ramming, 54, reputedly wealthy farmer, on April 22 was dispelled today with the identification of the man's torso and arms.

Two young men, fishing along the Sheboygan river Saturday evening at a mile from Kiel, found the torso and arms. The man is believed to have committed suicide by touching off a charge of dynamite. Ramming, whose wealth at one time was placed at $100,000, was worrying over financial reverses prior to his disappearance.

Searching parties today failed to locate the other parts of the farmer's body. He is survived by a widow and seven children.

Truckee, Calif. — (P) — Snow, four inches deep, blanketed the landscape here and at Lake Tahoe last night. The snow fell throughout most of yesterday. The temperature was around 34 degrees.

ROYAL "FAMILY LAW" IS UPHOLD BY HIGH COURT AT LEIPSIG

Berlin — (P) — The supreme court at Leipzig has decided that the marriage of the Duke of Croÿ and Miss Nancy Leishman, daughter of the former American ambassador to Germany which was dissolved in 1932, was a merriment from the legal point of view.

(The Duke of Croÿ and Miss Leishman were married in Switzerland in 1913. They were divorced in 1922. The Duke was married to Helen Lewis of Albany, N. Y., in 1924.)

A divorce also has been granted to the Duke of Anhalt, who recently married Fraulein Sticker, actress daughter of a German bandmaster, by the Berlin courts.

The "family law" of the German princely houses which regards the marriages of their members with the bourgeoisie as a merriment thus has been upheld by these court decisions.

24 SAFE, 1 DROWNS IN STEAMER WRECK

Fate of 8 Others Still in Doubt—Gale Plays Havoc on West Coast

Portland, Ore. — (P) — The rescue of 24 members of the crew of the lumber steamer Laurel and the loss of one life was reported early today by life saving crews near the mouth of the Columbia river, where the ship was broken in two yesterday by a storm.

The gale played havoc with shipping along the Oregon-California coast.

Reports from the life savers said the fate of eight others on the wreck of the Laurel still was in doubt. The remaining eight were believed to be on the stern half of the vessel which is on a sand spit half a mile off the north jetty at the mouth of the river.

The Laurel passed out of the river at an early hour yesterday, carrying 7,208,400 feet of lumber for New York and Philadelphia. Her steering gear became disabled and the storm carried her back onto the sand spit. Life saving crews found her at daylight, but were unable to get close to her, owing to tremendous seas and floating lumber. At 7 o'clock a. m., she broke in two. One man was drowned and the other 32 were left at the stern.

Shortly after the Laurel was driven around the steamer Multnomah in the coastwise service, of the McCormick Steamship company flashed calls for help reporting that the storm had resulted in boiler trouble and that she had lost a deck load of 600,000 feet of lumber.

A pilot schooner was dispatched to look after the 15 passengers on the Multnomah. All the members of the crew remained at their posts and with the boiler trouble apparently ended the vessel returned to the river under her own power.

Two fishermen, F. and H. Anderson, brothers of Sausalito, Calif., were believed to have perished in the storm off Shelter cove, near Fort Bragg, Calif. Their launch came ashore bottom up yesterday.

RIISING VALUE SHOWN BY DOLLAR LAST MONTH

Washington — (P) — The bureau of labor statistics announced today that the rising value of the dollar with downward trend of wholesale prices continued through May, the latter declining 1 per cent from the April level.

The weighted index of wholesale prices for May stood at 95.8 compared with 96.3 for April and 95.6 for May, 1928. On the basis of these figures, the bureau placed the purchasing power of the dollar last month at 104.4 compared with 100 in May, 1928.

Farm products, notably the grains, meat animals, cotton, hay and wool, continued to lead the decline, but of 550 commodities considered, only 82 increases while 178 decreased and 290 were unchanged.

MONOPLANE PREPARED FOR HONDURAS FLIGHT

Westfield, N. J. — (P) — A six passenger monoplane was at the airport here today being prepared it was said, for a non-stop flight from New York to Honduras.

The owner of the plane, Lezandro Garay, of Tegucigalpa brought the ship from Washington. He was accompanied by two attaches of the Honduran legation. Officials at the airport said Garay had ordered the seats removed to make room for additional gasoline tanks.

OHIO PROF TO BE QUIZZED IN GIRL SLAYING

Spots Resembling Bloodstains Found in Dr. Snook's Automobile

FIRST UPPOOF TO ZIERKE. Columbus — (P) — Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds today granted a mandatory order to attorneys for Dr. James H. Snook, Ohio State university professor held in connection with the slaying of Miss Theora Hix, university co-ed, providing that they should have a private interview with their client at once.

John J. Chester, Jr., county prosecutor, announced today that he will lay the killing of Miss Hix, before the county grand jury late today and that he "probably would seek a first degree murder charge," against Dr. James H. Snook, University professor, held for investigation in connection with the slaying.

The prosecutor's statement was made as he started a series of interviews with persons connected with the case. The interviews were held private at police headquarters.

The prosecutor said that from now on he would take full charge of the inquiry and that all official announcements of its progress would come from him.

Charles Lang, night watchman at the Young Woman's Christian association residence here, told detectives today that Miss Hix lived there for a while in March of this year and that on numerous occasions she entered the residence between 2 and 3 o'clock a. m. He said she was accompanied to the door by a man whom he identified from a photograph as Dr. Snook.

Dr. Richard Good, the physician who dressed the injury on Dr. Snook's hand Friday, the day that Miss Hix's mutilated body was found on a rifle range near the city, was the first witness summoned before Prosecutor Chester as he began the task of checking up the alibis of Dr. Snook and Marian T. Myers graduate student at the university and a research worker for the state, who also is held for investigation.

HOLD CONFERENCE. County Prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr., called for a conference of police and county investigators this morning to lay before him all the evidence they have gathered since the co-ed's body was found last Friday on a rifle range northwest of the city.

Dr. Snook and Marian T. Myers, research editor in the university horticulture department, who also is under arrest, were booked for investigation only, but Dr. Snook, a professor in the college of veterinary, face a more serious charge, county authorities said, as the result of the disclosure that he had been intimate with Miss Hix for months and had shared a small apartment with her. Dr. Snook is married.

Unmoved except for a slight shudder when he looked upon the blood-stained grass where the body of the girl was found, he accompanied detectives yesterday morning first to the rifle range and then to the room where he admitted holding trysts with the young medical student.

DENIES KNOWLEDGE. He denied all knowledge of the slaying but with the prosecutor's office made a depository for all evidence in the case, more rigorous examination than any yet made was mapped for the day.

He was returned to his cell at the county jail last night to await that experience today.

Late last night police announced that stains which appeared to have been caused by blood were discovered in Dr. Snook's automobile.

This added to the evidence gathered Saturday after the professor's arrest when a variety of articles and feminine effects, some of them stained, were recovered from Dr. Snook's machine and from the furnace of his home where a fire had been built Friday.

Police also recovered from a dry cleaning establishment the suit which Dr. Snook was wearing the night Miss Hix was slain. It had been sent to the cleaners Friday, but still has spots, police said.

Through her husband's attorneys, John F. Seidel and E. O. Rickett, Mrs. Snook said that the articles found in the Snook home were of no consequence. She said rubbish had been burned there and attributed the stains to the blood of animals, calling attention to her husband's profession.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Welch spent the weekend at Pulcfur with Mrs. R. L. Krake.

MICHIGAN RUM RUNNER IS KILLED IN ILLINOIS

Chicago — (P) — A Michigan rum runner who may have been ambitious to "muscle in" on the traffic in Chicago, was found shot dead near his automobile on a lonely Chicago Heights roadway early yesterday.

The man was Ralph Cesa, or Sena, identified by papers found on his person as having been active in liquor sales around Kalamazoo and Holland, Mich. From the position of the body police believe he was on his knees, as though, begging mercy, when slain. He was about 30 years old.

STATE POOR RELIEF HEADS DISCUSS WAYS OF AIDING SERVICE

City Poor Commissioner Returns Saturday from Wausau Meeting

Methods of improving relief of poor in Wisconsin cities were discussed at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Public Relief officials at Wausau Thursday and Friday, according to E. G. Schueller, city poor commissioner, who returned Saturday evening from the session.

Fred Eoflein, Wauwatosa, president of the association, was the principal speaker, his topic being Transient Paupers. Other speakers were William Notbom, Milwaukee, representative, who talked of Children's Welfare and August Kringle of Milwaukee-co, head of the Children's Home-finding society.

All officers were reelected at the Friday afternoon session and Milwaukee was chosen as the convention city for next year.

Officers are Fred Eoflein, Milwaukee, president; E. L. Seidl, Marshfield, vice president; Jacob Sattig, Kenosha, treasurer and W. M. Joyce, Manitowoc, secretary.

The convention banquet was held Thursday evening at the Wausau hotel and 25 representatives of poor commission from cities throughout the state were present. The address of welcome was given by the Wausau mayor.

STORIES VARY IN SHOOTING NEAR CANADA

Customs Border Patrolmen Call Death of Rum Suspect "Accidental"

Plattsburg, N. Y. — (P) — The death of Arthur Gordon of this city, 22, shot while running 27 cases of beer from Canada in an automobile, presented problems for country officials today.

John C. Tulloch, collector of the port of Ogdensburg, said the shooting was "accidental" on the part of the customs border patrolmen.

County authorities said that the five shots which persons reported to District Attorney B. Loyal O'Connell they had heard did not jibe with the statement of Border Patrolman Cheatham that one shot from his rifle fatally wounded Gordon. This shot, the officer said, was fired unintentionally when he fell while chasing Gordon and his elbow struck a stone, causing him to tighten his grip on the rifle and discharging the shot.

The statement of the border patrol that the chase took place in broad daylight was another disputed point. The prosecutor's men said hospital attendants told them, the border patrolmen left Gordon's body at their institution about 6 o'clock Saturday morning. This they said, would indicate that the chase took place in the early morning hours.

RAN TOWARD BORDER. Tulloch said Patrolmen Coveney and Cheatham tried to block Gordon's car with their two machines after they had sighted him coming down one of the "hoose trails" not far from the border. The officers reported that Gordon's automobile took a wheel off the first car, careened into a ditch and was just straightening out when the second car loomed before him. They said Gordon stopped, jumped out and ran back toward the border.

The custom collector's statement, quoted Cheatham and Coveney as saying that Gordon could distinguish their uniforms and that they ordered him to stop with the customary

Gus Sell, Outagamie County agricultural agent, will address members of Rotary club at their regular meeting Tuesday noon. Mr. Sell will speak on some phase of agricultural work.

PLAYGROUNDS OPEN MONDAY AFTERNOON

A. C. Denney of Lawrence College Again in Charge of Program

Appleton playgrounds were officially opened for the summer at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. A. C. Denney, director of athletics at Lawrence college, again has charge of the work. He will be assisted by young people supervisors at the various grounds.

A meeting of supervisors was held Monday morning to plan for the week's and summer's activity. Softball teams will be organized for the boys with volleyball squads for the girls and sand boxes and games for the younger children.

Six grounds will be in operation this summer, one more than last year. The new grounds will be for young children and girls and will be located in the lower Fourth ward at Interlake park.

The first ward grounds will be in charge of John Cinkosky and Helen Gilman. Third ward in charge of Robert Roemer and Florence Hitchler. Fourth ward Nell Ansorge and Lydia Becher. Lower Fourth ward Agnes Huberty. Fifth ward Mel Heinritz and Ora Zuehlke. and Sixth ward Norbert Berg and Marie Timm.

command of "United States customs, ball."

Gordon was within a few feet of the Canadian border when he was brought down. Cheatham said that when he approached Gordon, the youth said:

"You got me."

Gordon died while being taken to a hospital by the patrol.

Cheatham, according to his report to the collector, asked Gordon just before he died if he had anything to say.

"Tell my brother I am sorry for all this," the youth replied. "I am not bootlegging for myself but for a New York man."

Jap Emperor Slighted In Kellogg Pact, Tokio Holds

Tokio, Japan — (P) — The long-drawn conflict over the phrase "in the names of their respective peoples" in the Kellogg reunciation of war pact what was expected to be its final phase at a meeting today of a special committee of nine of the privy council. Count Nijoji Ito acted as chairman.

The committee began a study of the pact together with the Japanese cabinet's proposed "interpretation," of the phrase to which there is strong conservative opposition because of what is looked upon as a slight to the emperor's sole treaty-making powers.

Premier Tanaka, supported by foreign office experts, in an appeal to the committee explained the government's position, the experts outlining the legal and constitutional aspects.

The controversy involving political subtleties, is nowise concerned with the merits of the treaty itself but has rallied diverse and powerful elements in an attempt to nullify the Tanaka cabinet on the grounds of remissness in accepting a phrase allegedly contrary to the spirit of the Japanese constitution and disrespectful to the sovereign.

One of the keynotes is the attitude of Count Uchida, who signed the treaty in Paris and who is threatening to resign his seat in the privy council taking responsibility for his share in this "remissness."

According to Japanese ideas of responsibility, Count Uchida's resignation would almost certainly compel Premier Tanaka to do likewise. Moreover, if ratification of the pact were accompanied by important reservations which would indirectly censure the ministers, the government would be likely to fall.

The results of today's meeting were not divulged and several others will be necessary. It is expected that a plenary session of the privy council will be held about June 25 finally to decide whether to advise the emperor to ratify the pact.

DRIVER IS FINED $25 FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

John Verbruggen, Milwaukee, was fined $25 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Monday morning when he pleaded guilty of reckless driving. He was arrested early Sunday morning on Highway 41 near the Nittingale dance hall by Sheriff Fred W. Giese and Deputy Sheriff Lothar Kemp after they had been called to the scene of an accident in which Verbruggen had figured.

Fred Whitman, Kaukauna, whose car was struck by a machine driven by Verbruggen, called the officers. Both Whitman's and Verbruggen's machine were badly damaged. The Milwaukee man was taken to the county jail where he was held until Monday morning.

ZEPPELIN FLIGHT IS POSTPONED TILL 1930

Berlin — (P) — A special dispatch to the Telegraphen Union from Friedrichshafen today said that the trans-Atlantic flight to America of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin had been postponed until 1930.

A flight around the world for the big airship was scheduled to start about July 15. The Graf Zeppelin's last attempt to fly to America ended on May 17 when crippled motors forced her to run back over Spain.

SPEEDER PAYS FINE OF $10 AND COSTS

Ed Herman, 1020 W. Rogers-ave, was fined $10 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Monday morning when he pleaded guilty of speeding. He was arrested Saturday morning by Gus Hersekorn for "traveling" 86 miles an hour on W. Prospect-ave.

KOHLER SHOWING INDEPENDENCE IN APPROVING BILLS

Shows No Hesitancy in Signing Measures Opposed by Supporters

Madison—(AP)—Governor Walter J. Kohler has by his recent action on bills presented to him by the legislature demonstrated his desire to act independently of the various groups which attempt to guide the movements of a chief executive.

His independent stand on certain measures has been directly contrary to the views of certain forces which are supposed to control his own conservative faction of the Republican party. And on one occasion he has gone directly against the expressed wish of his own group in the legislature.

During the last week, Kohler vetoed a bill which was introduced and fought for by a senator recognized as the Kohler floor leader in the upper house, George W. Blanchard, Edgerton. That was the measure requiring all residents of the state over 18 to pay an annual fee of one dollar for the privilege of fishing in Wisconsin's waters.

When he signed Sen. Thomas M. Duncan's bill outlawing "yellow dog" contracts between employer and employee, Kohler approved a measure that was bitterly opposed by the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association, of which organization Kohler is an officer.

Duncan, author of the measure, is a Socialist, and the "yellow dog" bill is considered one of the most "radical" passed by a Wisconsin legislature in recent years. The same bill was presented by the American Federation of Labor to each of the 48 legislatures, but was rejected by every state but Wisconsin.

Another "radical" bill which the Governor has approved is the White measure making it easier for county boards to give financial aid in the form of old age pensions. Although its author, Senator M. F. White is a conservative, the bill was considered essentially a Progressive or Socialist issue and vigorously supported by the minority group of the Senate.

APPLETON "ATMOSPHERE" BROADCAST PROGRAM

Entertainment with an Appleton twist to it comes over WMAQ Friday afternoon, when Charles Ender, manager of the Conway hotel of this city, engaged in a half hour of play with the three "Docs": Sherman, Russell and Pratt, the trio of entertainers which broadcasts every afternoon from the Chicago News station. Sherman is a former Appleton man and Russell originally came from Neenah, so the program had an Appleton atmosphere that was highly entertaining to the Appleton persons "tuned in" at the time.

WORK ON DE PERE DAM PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Work on the new De Pere dam above the bridge on Highway 41 is progressing rapidly since operations were resumed several weeks ago, according to A. F. Everett, government engineer. Installation of coffer dams has been completed and workmen have started to pour concrete for the spillway on the east end of the new sluiceway section. Spillways are to be constructed on the west and east wings of the sluiceway gates. The work probably will continue throughout the season.

information concerning the eradication of flower pests. The department will set up an exhibit and will have bulletins for those who want them. This feature was one of the most prized at the state flower show in Madison and is sure to win favor here.

So many exhibits have been promised from Green Bay and from Neenah that special tables will be arranged to hold flowers from those cities. It is hoped that there will be a sufficient number of entries from Kimberly, Little Chute, Kaukauna and other nearby cities to warrant special exhibits for those communities.

Every person who has flowers is invited to enter them in the show. The prize list, published last week, will be repeated Tuesday and flower lovers are urged by officers of the society to study the list and then make their entries.

Flowers are to be taken to the armory Saturday morning where entry blanks will be filled out and the flowers arranged in classes. There will be no entry fee.

Exhibitors will be asked to limit their peony exhibits for prizes, except in the sweepstakes division, to three flowers in each bouquet, but exhibitors may enter as many bouquets as they desire. Sixteen prizes are offered in the peony class, in addition to special prizes for the largest and finest displays. Each vase of smaller flowers will contain from six to fifteen flowers, except in the sweepstakes division in which as many flowers as desired may be entered.

Judging will start about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and all exhibits must be in place by that time. A sufficient number of persons will be at the armory to see that the exhibits are well taken care of.

Flowers should be cut either late Friday evening or early Saturday morning and placed in deep vases filled with water before they are taken to the show. Flowers that have had an opportunity to stand in water for several hours before they are taken to the armory will last better than those that are taken to the show house immediately after they are clipped.

NAME WINNERS IN CLUB CALF RAISING CONTEST

C. D. Towles, leader of the Kaukauna Calf club, and William Marsch, leader of the Golden Hill Calf club, New London, are the winners of two prizes offered by the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders' association and the Outagamie County Guernsey Breeders' associations. The prizes were offered to the leaders of clubs having the largest number of members raising Holstein or Guernsey calves. The Kaukauna club has the largest number of members raising Holsteins and the Golden Hill club has the largest number raising Guernsey cattle. As prizes the two club leaders will receive a free trip to the 4-H club leaders' camp at Madison, June 19 to 25.

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER ACHIEVES SUCCESS AS CONGRESSWOMAN

Constituents Figure That She'll Land in Senate Some Day

BY RODNEY DUTCHER Washington — Between her fifth and her ninth year, little Ruth Bryan used to come onto the floor of the House with her famous father. There are congressmen and Capitol employees who remember it.

Just the other day, eight-year-old Helen Ruda Owen, the granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan and daughter of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, made her own first visit to the floor beside her mother who is now formally referred to by other members as "the gentlewoman from Florida."

Bryan stepped from the floor of the House into the Democratic nomination for the presidency in 1896. When he came to Congress from Nebraska no one expected that he was going to do that. But Mrs. Owen has only been here three months and there are a great many persons, especially in Florida where it counts, who expect that she will at least some day step from the House to the Senate.

MAKING A GOOD RECORD Mrs. Owen is giving a perfectly swell demonstration of how to be a good congressman. Instead of making the mistake of plunging into national issues and grabbing lime-light, she has been plugging away to get everything the constituents in her district, which covers Miami and the rest of the Florida east coast, want and ought to have.

She has introduced two innovations, to wit:

1. She maintains an office at Vero Beach, midway between the district's north and south extremities, where Walter Buckingham serves as resident secretary and liaison officer between Mrs. Owen and the constituents. When constituents want to talk things over and can't get to Washington they go to Walter.

2. She is about to keep her campaign promise to make reports in each county of her stewardship. It's going to be warm this summer, but Mrs. Owen plans nearly a hundred speeches in fulfillment of the promise.

She can talk lengthily, one finds, of what she already has been able to do for Florida's agricultural interests.

Within three weeks after the Mediterranean fruit fly was discovered back home, Mrs. Owen and Congressman Drane had arranged for an appropriation of $4,500,000 to fight it.

APPLETON PEOPLE AT CAMP OPENING

American Legion Camp Has Been in Existence for Five Years

Several Appleton people were among the 500 persons who attended the exercises marking the fifth anniversary of the opening of Camp American Legion at Lake Tomahawk Sunday. Among those from Appleton who attended the exercises were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Madison, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Grace and daughter, Col. and Mrs. Frank J. Schneller, Neenah, also were present.

The afternoon's exercises were opened with numbers by the Rhinelander drum corps, the Minocqua city band, and the Imperial legion quartet of Rhinelander. Speakers were R. F. Hoehe, state commander of the legion, and Austin A. Peterson, state adjutant of Milwaukee.

Commander Hoehe reviewed activities of the legion in helping disabled war veterans, and Mr. Peterson discussed the proposed state park of 40 square miles in the northern part of the state which, if purchased by the state, will be under the supervision of the legion and will become a wild life refuge.

There now are about 50 people living at the legion camp. Six new cabins will be erected this summer and several other improvements made. Oney Johnston post, Appleton, is one of the groups expected to erect a new cabin on the grounds.

CIVIC COUNCIL WILL HEAR MARGARET LISON

Miss Margaret Lison of the state crippled children's society will talk to the Civic Council at the regular June meeting Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30. Results of the survey among crippled children in the city will be discussed and suggestions made for starting a school for corrective treatments. Miss Lison found there were 50 crippled children in Appleton schools needing immediate corrective treatment.

WASHINGTON PROF DIES IN ENGLAND

Wincomb, Gloucestershire, England —(P)—Vernon Louis Parrington, professor of English literature in the University of Washington at Seattle, died suddenly here yesterday.

Professor Parrington, his wife and their son, were touring the Cotswolds hills. Mrs. Parrington left her husband at his typewriter shortly after noon yesterday while she went to lunch. When she returned she found him dead on his bed.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Unsettled tonight and Tuesday. Local thunderstorms; cooler Tuesday.

GENERAL WEATHER

A deep "low" over western North Dakota has caused scattered showers during the past 48 hours in the lake region, Upper Mississippi and Missouri Valley and the Rocky Mountain states. High pressure over the south Atlantic coast has brought fair weather to the southern states, the western plains states and the southern Rocky Mountain states. Temperatures have risen sharply in the lake region during the past 48 hours, but it is somewhat cooler this morning in the northwest. Unsettled, with probably local thunderstorms, is expected in this section tonight and Tuesday, followed by cooler Tuesday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles McNeese, Chilton hotel, at St. Elizabeth hospital Saturday.

BOOTH FUNERAL SET FOR JUNE 24

Salvationists a deep sense of personal loss that they felt at the 72-year-old general's death, so quietly and suddenly last night after final months of life which had been filled with the agony of ill health, distasteful conflict, and defeat.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY

The general spoke to his family yesterday afternoon before he leaped into unconsciousness. What his words, however, has not been revealed to the public, but one who was near to him said today, "He didn't know the end was so near."

The peace of the tree shaded street in Hadley Wood where he lived was broken today only by the opening and shutting of the grave as messenger boys brought cables with messages of sympathy and condolence to Mrs. Booth and her children from all parts of the world. With the exception of Colonel Mary Booth, who is returning from Germany, all members of the family are here and were at the bedside when he died.

The Salvation Army probably will be entrusted with arrangements for the funeral. The general's parents are buried in Abney Park cemetery in north London and it was his family's wish he lie at the side of the Salvation Army's founder, his own father.

One effect of the general's death, it was believed, would be to put an end to all further litigation connected with the army's leadership, thus saving the surviving leaders anxiety and the army itself considerable expense. It was believed distress he felt at deposition as head of the army had an adverse effect upon his physical condition and may have shortened his life somewhat.

Throughout yesterday the general remained conscious and was able to recognize his wife, his daughters Dora and Olive, and his two sons as they stood at his bedside. It was only just before the end that he lapsed into unconsciousness. One of his family said, "Death came very suddenly, but perfectly peaceful." Those by the bedside were praying for him. At the end of their prayers they looked at him and saw he had ceased to breathe. His face wore a complete calm.

WAS OUSTED

General Booth was removed from his office as commander-in-chief of the army in February, 1929, when after a long fight the high-council of the army ruled he was physically unfit to continue his work. The ouster followed growth of a reform movement within the army in which his own sister, Commander Evangeline Booth, head of the army in the United States, lined up with the reformers.

Mrs. Booth received a message of sympathy from the king reading as follows:

"The queen and I have heard with regret of the death of General Bramwell Booth and we offer you our sincere sympathy in your bereavement. With his father, he will always be gratefully remembered as the promoter of the widespread and beneficent activities of the Salvation Army."

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY OF BUNKER HILL FIGHT

Boston —(P)—Boston today was celebrating the 154th anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The principal event of the holiday program was a parade in which many military and civic organizations took part.

SECOND CHILD KEPT ALIVE BY FIREMEN

Chicago —(P)—With the life of Raymond D. Chari, 16 months-old victim of bronchial pneumonia, apparently saved today as a result of administration of oxygen since last Thursday by firemen, members of the fire department were also working to save another baby, 18-months-old John Karpowich, ill for ten days.

At 9 o'clock this morning firemen had been fighting 95 hours to save Raymond's life, and today the child's lungs were declared considerably cleared. Firemen were called to the aid of the Karpowich child Sunday night.

KIWANIS CLUB TO SEE FIRST AID EXHIBITION

The first aid team of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company will put on an exhibition for Appleton Kiwanis club Wednesday noon at the regular weekly meeting at Con-way hotel. Miss Violet Hutchinson, power company nurse will have charge of the work.

BOARD SEEKS BIDS FOR REMOVING DIRT

The board of public works is advertising for bids for the removal of dirt which has covered half the road on E. Water-st. near the Wisconsin Michigan Power company gas plant, due to a landslide. The work will probably amount to $700 or $800, according to Mayor A. C. Rife.

A retaining wall probably will be constructed as soon as the dirt has been removed. The projects were referred to the board of public works at the last meeting of the common council.

BUILDING PERMITS

Three building permits were issued Saturday by John Weiland, building inspector. They were to Miss Minnie Thompson, porch on a residence at 518 N. State-st., cost $100; Richard Artman garage at 521 N. Badger-ave., $100, and to Mike Kenigan, addition to home at 728 W. 4th-st., cost $50.

Grounds Committee Meets

The public grounds and buildings committee met at the city hall Monday afternoon.

NAME IS SPELLED WRONG--WHITE HOUSE MUST REPEAT WORK

Washington —(P)—The White House came to the conclusion today that there was room for improvement in its spelling.

When the nomination of Fred-eric A. Tilton as third assistant postmaster general was sent to the senate a "letter K" was added to the first name. In that form the nomination was subsequently confirmed by the senate. But, so far as the government in general and the post-office department is particular are concerned, there is no such person as Frederick A. Tilton.

Consequently the whole procedure must be gone through again and the White House today prepared a new nomination with the name correctly spelled for transmittal to the senate.

FIRST MASS IS READ BY REV. COURTNEY

The Rev. Leo Courtney, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Courtney, 1025 E. North-st. ordained into the Catholic priesthood June 7, celebrated his first mass at St. Mary church at 10:30 Sunday morning. About 20 priests from surrounding cities attended the services.

The Rev. J. Herrington, Ironwood, Mich., served as deacon, the Rev. Harry Schueller, ordained with Rev. Courtney, as subdeacon, and Glen Brill, a student at St. Francis seminary, as master of ceremonies. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. William Kiernan of Green Bay, and Xsgr. W. J. Fitzmaurice, pastor of St. Mary church, assisted in the service.

Priests from Stevens Point, Kimberly, Green Bay, Appleton, DePere, and Little Chute attended the mass, and a dinner in honor of Rev. Courtney at 1 o'clock at Hotel Northern. Two hundred guests were served at the dinner.

RAIL OFFICIAL HERE TO INSPECT SUBWAY

J. A. Dyer, Green Bay, division engineer of the Chicago and North-western Railroad company, was in Appleton Saturday inspecting construction work on the new subway on E. Wisconsin-ave. Excavation is still in progress. It is expected the work will be completed by the middle of November, according to Mr. Dyer.

MERCURY SOARS TO 83 DEGREES ABOVE ZERO

The mercury skyrocketed to a new high record for June Monday morning when it reached the 83 degree mark. Prior to this record the highest point reached was 79 degrees.

Ideal weather conditions prevailed here during the past 48 hours. Skies were clear, and moderate temperatures prevailed. Winds have been blowing from the southwest during the past 24 hours.

Local thunderstorms and showers with a drop in the mercury is the weatherman's prediction for the next 24 hours. Skies were getting cloudy in the western states Monday and showers were reported.

At 6 o'clock Monday morning the mercury registered 75 degrees above zero.

CHILD WITH FRACTURED SKULL FAILS, RALLIES

Following a decline which made her unconscious, little Geraldine Schreiber, injured several weeks ago, has rallied and her condition is about the same as it was before the setback. The child, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schreiber, fractured her skull several weeks ago when she was struck by a car driven by Raymond Rippl, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rippl.

RURAL CARRIERS REELECT OFFICERS

Barney Collar, Hortonville, was re-elected president of the Outagamie County Rural Mail Carrier's association at the annual meeting at Alicia park Sunday. Other officers reelected were Joseph Tennie, Appleton, vice president; and Frank Heagle, Seymour, secretary. Leonard Mory, Black Creek, was elected treasurer to succeed Nathan Shauger, who declined to accept the office for another term. Delegates to the annual convention of the Wisconsin Rural Mail Carriers association in Racine in July are: Arnold Fetting, Appleton; Al Van Straten, Shiocton; and Leonard Mory and Frank Bick, Black Creek. Twenty-six rural carriers and their families attended the picnic.

PREMIER AND DAWES DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Scotland to talk with the prime minister over the week—that is, the invitation to come to Washington to confer with President Hoover of the Anglo-American situation.

In London, while enthusiasm was expressed that the two men have found their opinions so reconcilable, there was a certain measure of surprise, not without a tinge of disappointment, at the reference to other powers partaking in the negotiations for a naval agreement. It was thought the chances for reaching an agreement were much greater if the treaty were to be bilateral rather than multilateral in some circles even these were distinct opposition to another naval conference.

The tendency, however, was to await the two speeches before upholding or attacking whatever program the two men may have in mind.

Washington —(P)—Official and diplomatic Washington were looking today toward London in anticipation of further developments in the Anglo-American discussions initiated there by Premier MacDonald and Ambassador Dawes.

It had been understood there that the two statesmen first would want to hold preliminary conferences on the whole before definitely discussing the contemplated trip.

Indications in the prime minister's statement that the subject of naval reductions was discussed, occasioned to surprise, although it was said in diplomatic circles that the intimations that "other naval powers were expected to participate in the negotiations was considered as an unusual development.

There had been no doubt here that the first question Mr. Dawes would discuss with the prime minister would be that regarding navies.

Tokio —(P)—Japan's cooperation in any disarmament program negotiations that Ambassador Dawes and Premier Ramsay MacDonald may have begun yesterday at Forbes was promised today by Premier Tawaka, in a statement to the Associated Press.

The premier said: "I cannot fail to be gratified at the report Premier MacDonald and General Dawes have had an important conversation which is to be regarded as beginning negotiations among the powers concerned for the reduction of naval armament.

"Japan will be quite ready to offer cooperation in such negotiations as she is always anxious to do her utmost to promote universal peace."

Wausau COUPLE HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilbert, Wausau, were injured Sunday morning south of Fremont when their car struck a culvert and collided with a car driven by W. W. Nelson, Wausau. Mrs. Gilbert fractured her right arm and cut a gash over the right eye, while her husband cut his forehead. Mr. Nelson was badly bruised. The Wausau people are in the hospital at Fremont.

YOUTH NEAR DEATH AFTER BEING THROWN FROM MOTORCYCLE

Francis Haynes, 19, Hortonville, is in St. Elizabeth hospital in a serious condition as a result of being thrown from his motorcycle on Highway 26 about a mile east of Hortonville at 10:30 Sunday morning. The youth suffered a fractured skull and severe body bruises. The accident occurred while the young man was on his way to pass an automobile and the front wheel of his machine caught in the railroad tracks which crossed the road at that point. Attending physicians said his condition is critical.

GANGS OF WAIFS DISAPPEAR FROM RUSSIAN STREETS

Government's Effort to Care for Homeless Are Successful

Moscow —(P)—Homeless children, who used to infest Russian cities, working in gangs and thieving or robbing pedestrians, are rapidly disappearing. As a consequence one may traverse some of the side streets now at night with reasonable expectation of arriving home without losing one's watch or purse.

In 1928 there were about 30,000 of these waifs in various cities. About 20,000 were picked up by various organizations last year and placed in institutions to be trained in useful work, fed and cared for until they have lost their gang instincts. More than 8,500 were rescued from the streets of Moscow alone.

For years the waifs were an unsolved problem. Most of them lost their homes and parents in the civil wars and revolutionary fighting, but some took to the streets by choice and these proved the most recalcitrant. Attempts by the commission of education to reclaim them by ordinary institutional methods failed because when the youngsters grew tired of routine lives, they merely ran away.

A special committee appointed last year has had success with "communes of work." Four of these centers were opened—in Rostov, Orlo, the Saratov district and Staro-Tcherkass. The Orlo commune, for example, owns a factory in which boys are taught to make harvesting machines. In other places they are trained as lock smiths, boiler makers and in similar trades.

Advertising is a reference book that is never out of date

There is a dictionary so large that it took more than thirty years to compile and publish it complete. This great book seeks to give the truth about all words and their uses. Today, only the last volume, devoted to words beginning with "Z," is strictly up to date.

Consider the advertising in this paper. It describes commodities for your use, as a dictionary describes words. It tells how they will save you time, increase your comfort, give you the advantages of modern living. Yet none of it is out of date by as much as a week.

Advertising is news, as much as the headlines on the front page. Very often, indeed, it is news of more significance to you, and has more bearing on your life today, tomorrow. Read these advertisements with confidence. They are the daily reference book on the things you need.

Advertisements keep you abreast of the times. Read them.

HULL OPPOSED TO BOOST IN CIGAR WRAPPER TARIFF

Badger Tobacco Growers Would Suffer from Increase, He Says

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Washington Bureau of Post-Crescent
Washington—Whatever increases are made in the tariff on Sumatra cigar wrappers will come out of the pockets of tobacco growers in Wisconsin and other state, declared Representative Merin Hull of Black River Falls in appearing before a subcommittee of the Senate Finance committee to urge that it reject the proposed increase.

The House of Representatives adopted an amendment to the tariff bill providing for a duty of $2.15 on stemmed Sumatra wrappers instead of the present duty of $2.75, and a duty of $2.50 a pound on unstemmed Sumatra wrapper instead of $2.10 as at present.

Representative Hull appeared in behalf of the Wisconsin tobacco pool because Emerson, E. A. of Madison, counsel for the pool, could not be present before the committee Friday.

It was over this proposed increase in the duty on Sumatra wrappers that Hull got into a spirited controversy with Representative Thomas Yon of Florida, chief advocate of the increase. In the course of a speech in the House, Representative Yon charged that Wisconsin growers of tobacco used as filler and binder had been misled by importers into opposing the tariff, and had been misrepresented before the Ways and Means committee. Reading a telegram from a Florida man who said that he had been in Wisconsin interviewing binder and filler growers and had found that they favored the increase Representative Yon then said:

"The evidence produced by one Mr. Ela as to what he purported to be the wishes of binder and filler growers toward this schedule was not warranted."

Ela wrote a hot letter to Representative Yon, and sent a copy to Representative John M. Nelson of Madison demanding that it be put in the Congressional Record. Representative Yon objected to this, and Representative Nelson merely made a statement that Ela was the chosen representative of Wisconsin tobacco growers.

Representative Hull said in appearing before the Finance sub-committee that the proposed increase in the tariff would add something over $3 a thousand to the cost of the 5-cent cigar. The manufacturers will pay just that much less to Wisconsin producers of the binder and filler used in these cigars if the tariff goes into effect, Representative Hull declared.

Florida tobacco cannot be used on the cigars made out of Wisconsin binder and filler because it does not blend properly with Wisconsin tobacco he said, and Connecticut tobacco is used as wrapper on the 10 and 15-cent cigars. Thus, he argued, the increased duty will work a hardship on Wisconsin tobacco growers without helping Florida and Connecticut tobacco growers.

CHANGE CLASS OF 13 POSTOFFICES

Promotions and Demotions Will Take Effect on July 1

Washington Bureau of Post-Crescent
Washington—Thirteen Wisconsin post offices will move from one class to another on July 1, some moving up with increases in the postmaster's salary and some moving down with decreases in salary.

The class in which a post office is bua depends upon its postal receipts.

The Elkhorn postoffice will be promoted from the second to the first class, with an increase in the post-master's pay, which is now $2,900.

The Ladell and St. Francis post offices will be demoted from the second to the third class, with decreases in salaries, both salaries now being $2,300.

The Augusta, Clear Lake, and Pulaski post offices will move up to second class from third class, with increases in salary, the salaries now being $2,800, $2,200 and $2,800 respectively.

The Blackwell, Brussels, Cobb, Draper, Eland, Glenhaven, and Ogdenburg offices will go down to fourth class from third class, thus taking them out of the classes in which the President appoints the postmaster and decreasing salaries.
The present salaries are: Blackwell,
$1,200; Draper, $1,200; Eland, $1, 100; with the others not listed in the published salary list as they have not been in the third class long. New salaries are not announced.

ACROBATIC COP
Cleveland—Agility saved the life of Motorcycle Policeman Melvin Collier here. When attempting to drive his cycle through an opening between a street car and a truck, the cycle skidded. Collier seized a handle on the truck and drew himself up to safety on the truck as the street car wheels crushed his vehicle.

"WAS JUST WHAT I NEEDED", HE SAYS

"Sargon Is Worthy of All the Praise It Is Getting," Declares Withrow

"I knew Sargon was just exactly the medicine my system needed when I finished the first bottle, for it made a wonderful change in my condition. For four years I tried everything that was recommended for my troubles without being benefited, but I could feel myself getting better with every bottle of Sargon.

"My stomach was in terrible condition and I suffered intense pains after every meal. Within thirty minutes after eating, a hard knot seemed to form in the pit of my stomach. I know I have taken several pounds of soda, but it only gave me temporary relief from this acid condition.

"I suffered with chronic constipation, and my stomach hurt so I could not wear my belt at times. I had severe attacks of headaches and dizzy spells every few days.

"Four bottles of this remarkable Sargon put an end to my stomach trouble, restored my digestion to fine shape, and I have gained five pounds. I have been wonderfully strengthened and have more energy than I have had in years. I haven't had a dizzy spell or headache since I began the treatment, and there isn't an ache or pain in my body
now. Sargon Soft Mass Pills completely ended my constipation.

"Sargon certainly is worthy of all the praise it is getting, and I am glad to endorse it for the wonderful results it accomplished in my case."

The above statement was made by Henry Withrow, of 2815 Clark St., Milwaukee. He is a machinist and also owns a confectionery store, which his wife operates. He is highly esteemed by many friends.

Sargon may be obtained in Ap-

"AMERICANA"

Under the above heading, Mr. Mencken collects in his magazine the oddities, the bigotries, the narrowness and in many instances the ignorance of American life, and since all of them put together are in a great minority the heading is unjust though it attracts attention.

Then tendency towards self-praise in candidates for office was stopped short by a candidate in Augusta, Georgia, who advertised, "I know I'm not much but why vote for less?" But this sort of modesty is not general in our political campaigns. Appeals to the self-interest of others are more common for we do not get by an election without some candidate heralding himself "the friend of the working man" or "the business man's candidate."

It took Bud McFadden running for jailer of Laurel county, Kentucky, to make the most direct appeal. If elected he stated, "I will buy all the stuff I can use from the man who needs the money. I will doctor the people free of charge because I am the only man in Laurel county that can cure all kinds of cancers and some other diseases." To have a magician of this kind at the county jail where he could be located at any time is great good fortune. But Bud was not even satisfied with that promise and he closed his rhetorical advertisement with: "You help me and I will help you, it costs you nothing but a cross mark to help me, but it costs me money to help you. I am the poor man's friend." We haven't information whether Bud was elected or not but if the people of Laurel county with the chance to have everything cured and financial aid in the bargain turned Bud down they are hard of heart indeed and blind to all opportunity.

The singular thing of it all is that most of these appeals to prejudice or passion or self-interest coin a great many votes and their effect may be better understood when it is considered that the following, from a self-styled "psychologist" in the Oklahoma City News would be believed by many: "My answer to the oft-repeated question of how planets operate to influence human beings and the earth, sea and vegetation is: the effect is produced by chemical action. All manifestation may very properly be called the operation of the chemistry of life. The blood must be the cause of all physical sensations, for it feeds and gives life or vital force to the brain cells and all the nerves. Therefore, it is plainly to be seen that planetary angles must reach consciousness through the medium of blood in order to record their message. If Mars is in bad aspect in Virgo the molecules of iron phosphate will be distributed and the natives suffer from a deficiency in iron in the digestive fluids. Evil aspects of Mercury in Gemini cause accidents and blunders in the industries, mechanics, manufactories, due to a deficiency in potassium chloride, the cell-salt magnesium. The chemical effect of planetary angles on the earth is caused by the influence or vibration of water and minerals responding to their positive and negative chemical affinities in the ether." All of which sounds a good deal like the Einstein theory.

And unsatisfied with all this glittering rhapsody Mr. Mencken quotes from a contributor to the Chicago Tribune who says that she is happy to do her part in helping to reform this sin-ridden world and as such part, "I am a member of the Anti-Saloon league, the Anti-Light Wines and Beer league, the Anti-Cigarette league, the Anti-Tobacco league, the Anti-Nudity in Art league, the Anti-Pool Room league, and the Anti-Sunday Amusement league."

Who will start the Anti-Life league?

ROYAL BLOOD IS ROYAL BLOOD

Prince Louis of Bourbon is a cousin of the king of Spain. His principal achievement in life has been getting himself into trouble, and so, profligate and downright bad, has he been that it became necessary to expel him from Spain; and France, patient as she is with the frailties of visitors, issued an order forbidding him her hospitality. But it must be remembered, in spite of all this, he is of royal blood.

Mabelle Gilman Corey, widow of a Pittsburgh steel magnate, well past fifty but owner of a few million American dollars, is in the business of reformation. She wants to save Prince Louis of Bourbon so she became engaged to marry him. But a woman could hardly be the wife of a Pittsburgh steel magnate without learning a little about business; and Mabelle thought it would be a fair proposition if she would support her wandering husband-to-be and give him a thousand dollars a month for cigarettes and eau de Cologne. While such a proposition ought to seem fair to the average bourgeois, sufficient allowance has not been made for the fact that the prince is of royal blood and he is mind spotted with insanity and his soul shrunk from profligacy he is still a prince and one of royal blood.

He sees no great virtue in Mabelle's effort to save him at a mere thousand a month and his keep. A prince of the royal blood should have several times that amount in order to keep the distinction clear between blood that is blue and royal and blood that is merely red and common.

Now of course it must be that the prince is ardently, fervently, wildly in love with Mabelle but that will not and should not prevent him from remembering his royal blood and the insignificance of the figure that is offered him for his hand in the holy bonds of matrimony. And although Mabelle's cheek turns crimson and her heart goes pitty-pat when the prince comes near, dragging one palsied foot after another and glassily staring through the rheum of senility, Mabelle thinks the price is fair enough and won't let loose of another fibre.

The prince has written that he is "through with the affair." It is possible that some other dancing grandmother has bid a little higher and it is possible too that he is running a royal bluff and when he finds out that he can get no more will come back to his own Mabelle and that pitiful thousand a month.

Prince matching like horse trading belongs to those of sharp wit.

MUSIC IN SUMMER

There is a summer music season in this country now mostly with outdoor performances. Pierre V. R. Key, New York music critic, suggests a few of the reasons for its development and popularity.

First, the listeners like the informality of an outdoor gathering, of sitting under a starry sky at night, or in a park with shady trees and pleasant vistas adding their charm to that of daytime music. Then there is the privilege of smoking when the spirit moves one. At the outdoor concert, too, it is possible to come or leave at will without incurring the indignant glances of seat-neighbors. An occasional quiet comment can be made to a companion without hearing a prompt "s-s-sh," for out of doors people are more easy-going. Often the summer music is free or offered at small cost, so that there are no ticket-holders to feel that they must get their money's worth.

This leisurely and comfortable audience is usually well rewarded for its interest and attention. Says the music critic, "Generally, nowadays, the summer music product is the real thing. It is the age of all-year-round musical competence." The summer music festivals of European communities have long been justly famous. The new world, however, is developing its own appreciation and performance so rapidly and so well that music-lovers need no longer pine for Old World opportunities in many localities.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK

New York—The next show-place of Manhattan, if the realtors have their way, will be the western fringe of Central park just north of Columbus Circle.

The Chanin brothers, whose prodigious properties include theatres, hotels and office buildings, are setting out to develop an unimposing stretch of park front into a new forest of towers.

The first structure to be replaced probably will be the Century theatre, the white jumbo of New York playhouses, because of its location too far from Times Square. In its place will rise a 65-story building, with a tower alone as large as the new 25-story Lincoln hotel.

It is said the Chanins have been eager for some time to introduce a novel material, a German-made glass brick. It now looks, however, as though they would have to wait awhile. The Century's successor probably will house apartments and even with stone-thrusters barred metropolitan tenants insist on more privacy than that enjoyed by their gold-fish.

Five years ago directors of the Art Center met to consider a new aesthetic development. They had been asked to lend their hall for the display of soap sculpture.

Far into the night they engaged in earnest discussion. It might be a good clean show, they conceded, but would it be Art? Finally they decided the carved cakes should be admitted.

The fifth annual exhibition of small sculptures in white soap now is spread throughout one floor of another principal art gallery, where collectors often are hung. Collectors look over the prize-winning objects, buying what they like. And the soap company which sponsors the competition is increasing next year's prizes from $1,500 to $2,500.

This has grown what one wag was heard to call "soapstudied art."

A typical taxi driver fell into a conversational mood during a traffic tangle the other day and volunteered the information that women are the "stock's" most frequent cheaters. Shoppers, he said, often leave drivers waiting at one store entrance while they escape through another.

A driver will usually trust a fare if the meter has registered less than $1. Although often gyped, he figures any loss will be offset by the next big tip.

But women are not the only ones who sometimes ride free. Intoxicated men, especially in parties of three or four, are such frequent offenders that a driver always inspects them closely before allowing them to crawl into his cab. If they don't look honest, they walk.

And getting back to the women, he thought they might merely be absent-minded rather than dishonest, like one who left him waiting at the curb until the meter ran up a bill of $1.65. Just as he started to search for her, she appeared and apologetically offered him $3. In the presence of pretties, she had forgotten him entirely.

BATTLE OF BUNKER HILL
On July 17, 1775, the first severe battle of the American Revolution was fought on Breed's Hill and Bunker Hill, Charlestown, Mass. Between about 3,000 British troops under General Howe and about 1,500 Americans under Colonel William Prescott.

The night of the 15th Prescott was sent to fortify Bunker Hill, the possession of which would compel evacuation of Boston by the British. But on the 17th an earthquake on Breed's Hill instead, and there awaited the British attack.

At 3 p. m. June 17, the British charged up the hill, but were driven back with great loss. A second charge also was repulsed. When the British advanced again at 4:30, however, the American's powder was spent and Prescott's men were dislodged and forced from the field.

The British losses in killed, missing and wounded were 1,054, including 95 officers. The American toll was 450. General Warren was among those killed on the American side.

Belonging to the British during the engagement, Charlestown was burned to the ground. Despite the fact that Howe obtained a strategic point which enabled him to retain his hold on Boston, the battle was considered morally a victory of the Americans, in that it demonstrated their fighting capacity and greatly increased the spirit of resistance throughout the country.

BUSINESS MEN ON HOME WORK

A Canadian business man has something of interest to tell us about this home work evil.

In the town of — I am a separate school representative on the high school board. Several times I have noticed your criticism of the school system for allowing too much home work to be loaded upon the children.

I am of the opinion that no home work should be allowed throughout the school year except in the month before examinations, and then only review work.

Most of our business men do not work much longer than the school children under the present system and we would not think of taking out work home with us at night except under unusual circumstances.

If our business demanded it, we would get into another business that didn't.

My daughter, aged 8, finished the first month in the fall term in second place in her class. The home work was light in that month, but grew heavier with each succeeding month until in December she had an hour or more every night.

She was fifth in November and seventh in December, and at Christmas holiday she was all in and had little or no time for play. She picked up during Christmas vacation, and came fourth in January. Home work started in February, and she was seventh in March, fifteenth in April, seventeenth in May, and in June she failed in her examinations, though certain she is no dumbbell.

During May and June she was unable to do arithmetic questions that she had done easily in February, nor could she get the formula through her head. She seemed dopy all the time and did not even enjoy the little play she got.

After two weeks vacation she was able to do the arithmetic she had failed to do on examination, and she could do them without stopping to puzzle over them.

The trouble, I think, is that the teaching staff of many schools are more concerned in play than in the pupils. And if they can make the parents do a considerable share of the teaching, that makes the job easier for them. (Signed) —

On — doesn't make a summer and one language child doesn't prove that home work is a detriment to health, but the case is at least suggestive.

I do not agree at all with my correspondent that children of that tender age should be given some homework at examination time. The examination evil is little better than the home work evil—if the child has made a satisfactory standing month by month there should be no question of the child's fitness for promotion. If the monthly class standing is not for that very purpose, the whole thing is so much applesauce.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Silver Sulphid

When I wear a sterling silver chain around my neck it blackens my neck. Is that a sign that there is too much acid in my system? What is the remedy? Have you any pamphlets on the care of the skin? (M. F.)

Answer—No, it is due to the formation of silver sulphid from sulphur compounds normally present in sweat or sebum. Silver sulphid is the dark color that is commonly called "oxidized silver." Silver sulphid is the usual explanation of discoloration by gold jewelry, the silver in the alloy. Send a stamped envelope bearing your address and ask for advice about your complexion.

Sour Milk
Does sweet milk lose or gain in food value when set in a warm place for 24 to 36 hours? Is it fit to eat? A guest of mine wants it only that way and I am learning to like it too. Another friend tells me it is full of germs and is very bad for anyone who has painful joints. (M. K.)

Answer—Fresh raw milk begins to sour if it stands 24 hours in a warm place; pasteurized or boiled milk would not sour so soon. The souring or sour milk is perfectly wholesome if you like it. It has no effect on painful joints.

Weak Eyes
Is there harm in tweezing eyebrows? I am told it weakens the eyes. Can weak eyes be made strong by treatments, by exercises or by wearing glasses? (J. S. J.)

Answer—It has no ill effect, except the exposure of the eyes to excessive light or dust when the screening action of the eyebrows is removed. If the eyesight is deficient, let the eye doctor decide whether glasses are advisable. (Copyright, John F. Dille Co.)

FLASHES FROM HOLLYWOOD

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—It was supposed to be an interview with Nancy Carroll. As such, it was not a great success; for I am still in the dark as to the little Irish redhead's views on the talkies, the "secret," if any, of her success, and her ideas on a score of other conventional interview questions.

But as luncheon diversion, and a trip to Ireland, it was a smashing hit—because Nancy came to lunch with Katharine Clara Ward, who was known in vaudeville as the Irish Thrush, and who now is a capable character actress in the movies.

When Greek meets Greek, they say, a restaurant is born; but when an Irish colleen has lunch with an Irish woman who is a dear friend, Old Erin is due for a visit.

AT "BRUNCH"

Lunch for the reporter was what Nancy of the great blue eyes called "brunch" for them—a combination of breakfast and lunch. And Nancy launched the Erin-bound ship of conversation by ecstatically informing us that in her next picture after "Illusion" she was to play a real colleen again, her first since "Abie's Irish Rose."

And father, Thomas LaHiff, who was born, he it is known, in dear Old Ireland, was teaching her a Gaelic song to sing it in.

And sure, says Mrs. Ward, she knows a grand Irish piece to recite in it, if Nancy cares for it. So she recited it with all the pantomime, in a low voice which did not attract the attention of "Buddy" Rogers and his young brother from Olaf, Kas, at the next table, but which nevertheless reminded Nancy of the way Katharine used to make her entrances on the stage of a grand red carpet, over which the long green train of her gown would trail majestically.

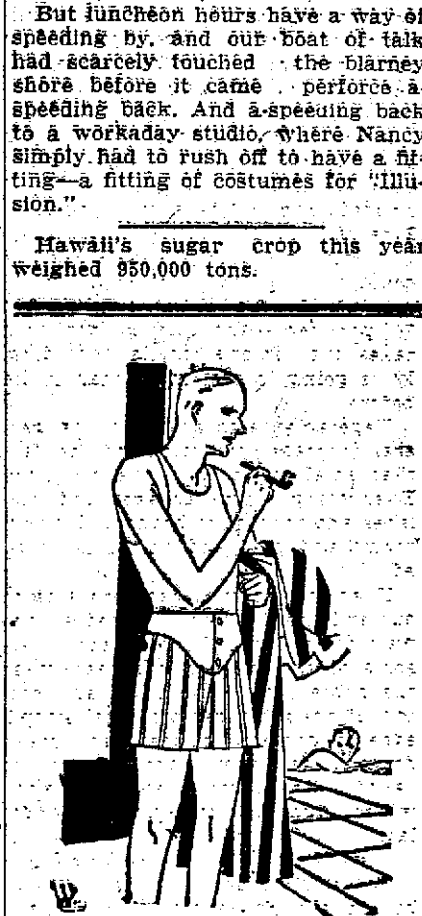

ERIN, AHOO!

And by that time "the ship was well in sight of the Shamrock Isle, and Nancy sang, in a low-pitched copy of her lilting Irish voice.

Then there were more recitations and more songs, all unheard save at that table, and they talked of tales their fathers told them of the "old country" of Irish tales and fearful professional mourners, and Irish books and lore, and of the days during the famine when folk rubbed potatoes against a lone fish hanger from the rafters to give the potatoes a flavor—when they couldn't afford to eat the fish.

But luncheon hours have a way of speeding by, and our boat of talk had scarcely touched the barley shore before it came a perfect A. And a-speaking back to a workaday studio, where Nancy simply had to rush off to have a fitting—a fitting of costumes for "Illusion."

CONGRESS SEEMS TO BEAR GRUDGE AGAINST BABIES

New Tariff Bill Raises Price of Everything Youngsters Use

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington—Well, anyway insofar as concerns the possibility of reprisals at the polls, there is one consolation for the promoters of the tariff bill now before the senate, i. e., as follows, to wit and viz: Babies can't vote.

Some member of the ways and means committee of the house must have been a birth control advocate, for this tariff bill, among other things, is rather discouraging to prospective parents. It need not be at all surprising if a delegation of them come here to squawk before the senate finance committee as it considers the measure.

Anybody can go right down the list and spot innumerable cuffs and kicks administered to young citizens in swaddling clothes.

BABY FOOD GOES UP

There's a deuce with a duty raised from 2 1/4 to 3 cents a pound and if it isn't delectable that's used in the well known baby food called dextri-maltose then it must be delectable, on which the tariff is raised from 1 1/2 to 2 cents. Possibly the ways and means committee soaked both delectable and dextrose so as to be sure and get the babies going or coming, not knowing the difference.

And gelatine, which babies are permitted to eat at an early stage, is hiked from 20 per cent and 3 1/2 cents a pound to 20 per cent and 5 cents.

Oh! And did you see what's happening to glass bottles? Everybody knows that lots of babies can't do without glass bottles. The tariff has been raised from 55 to 65 per cent. The lowly crochet needle, used in fabricating hoods, booties and what-not for young America, is also hit a body blow. The duty of $1.15 a thousand and 40 per cent is now $1.50 a thousand and 50 per cent.

So, likewise, is it with milk. The palper labor of Europe, it may be, exports very little milk to this country—but, regardless, the duty has been shoved up from 2 cents a gallon to 9 cents a gallon.

Shingles, probably, don't come under the heading of necessities for the fond parent, unless the parent is accustomed to use them in administering corporal punishment. Just the same, the shingle has been taken off the free list and gets a duty of 25 per cent.

And sugar, tied in a bit of cloth and sucked by fretful babies since time immemorial? Sugar's duty is hoisted from 2 1/2 cents a pound to 3 cents.

Surgical instruments, likewise could be imported under a duty of 45 per cent. This duty now becomes 70 per cent—and the gadget that takes out junior's tonsils, accordingly, is going to cost more than it did before.

Vegetables also share in the general increase, regardless of the fact that small children thrive on them. Everything from cabbages and radishes and turnips to beans and mushrooms and peas and onions is boosted.

Even malted milk has been singled out and the duty on it raised all the way from 9 to 30 per cent. All sorts of cotton cloth has been made the subject of large hikes, and cotton, if one's meager technical knowledge is correct, is used to make diapers, as they are sometimes called. The same goes for wool, which most babies wear sooner or later.

EVEN SHOES GO HIGHER

Before they got through with the bill in the house somebody remembered shoes. Somebody would! And if shoes are going to be made more, expensive the number of babies abandoned on doorsteps will increase enormously. The duty on pencils and crayons is up 15 cents a gross.

The unkindest cut of all is saved for the last. The tariff on matches is raised from 8 to 11 cents a gross.

If the senate passes that, playing with matches will be only a fond memory for the children of the poor.

RECOMMENDS STATUTES, BIBLE FOR LAWYERS

Ashland—(P)—A lawyer's literary field should include the revised statutes of Wisconsin, the dictionary, the Bible and a wide range of poetry. John J. Reynolds, attorney general, told his fellow attorneys at a banquet of the district attorney's convention here Monday evening.

Mr. Reynolds especially recommended the Proverbs, Psalms and the New Testament as beneficial reading for lawyers.

New York—(P)—New York women have gone "grapefruit."

While doctors scold and fashion writers insist that curves are coming back, the ladies of Manhattan—actresses, stenographers, debutantes and wives—are sighing and dining on grapefruit and olives, grapefruit and tomatoes, grapefruit and eggs, grapefruit and cucumbers, grapefruit and grapefruit.

It's called "the Hollywood diet," and it's an 18-day endurance test in which the victim is supposed to lose a pound a day. (If it happens to agree with her and she gains on it, that's just too bad.)

At the end of the 18 days, presumably looking about for dressmakers to take reefs in all her frocks, she is directed to go back to a normal diet for at least a month. Then more dressmakers can let out those reefs.

For those 18 days every meal is planned. Breakfasts are the same—half a grapefruit, one slice of Melba toast, one cup coffee. Lunches and dinners, including ubiquitous grapefruit, vary. For instance, here's what they get to eat on the third day:

Lunch—1/2 grapefruit, one egg, 1/2 head lettuce, eight slices of cucumber (without any oil). Dinner—one lamb chop, carefully bereft of all its fat before it is broiled, one egg, three radishes, two olives and one grapefruit.

And here is a marvelous dinner—Broiled steak, minus butter and with all the fat trimmed off, watercress without any dressing, 1/2 grapefruit. Eggs and tomatoes get almost as good a break as grapefruit. Not quite, for the average consumption of grapefruit is 1 1/2 per day but some days the victim consumes three eggs, and hardly a day passes that she doesn't down at least one tomato.

The restaurants have taken it up. All the way from Park-ave hotel cafes to Sixth-ave delicatessens, the procedure is something like this:

"Take it away," said the victim to the waiter, with a wistful shudder, as he approaches with a menu. "I'll take the fifth day dinner."

And then he brings her a couple of eggs, some lettuce, a tomato and—oh, yes, half a grapefruit.

Stories surrounding the origins of the Hollywood diet are legion. The most popularly accepted belief is that it started among the movie stars in Hollywood, as its name indicates. Another, the inspiration of a wise-cracking newspaper columnist, is that it originated with the Florida citrus growers.

A third places its beginnings in a famous middlewestern clinic and a fourth is that it was prescribed by a physician for a New York newspaper publisher who, 18 pounds lighter after 18 days, printed it in his paper.

For the general run of enthusiasts, New York doctors are inclined to frown upon it. They say its apt to result in acidosis, kidney trouble and anaemia.

A CAT MAY SIT ON A CHINAMAN AND DOES JUST THAT

Chicago—(P)—A cat was sitting on the head of a Chinese when police got to Juneway terrace and Sheridan road last night. The Chinese and a companion were seated in an automobile. They were in water up to their neck. The automobile was in the lake.

The cat purred. The Chinese, Daniel and Leang Huey, cousins, talked. None knew what they said. The policemen's knowledge of the Chinese tongue was limited to "no tickle, no wash."

Daniel Huey said he operates a laundry. This surprised nobody. He said the cat was his mascot. This interested nobody. He said the car was in the lake because Sheridan road took a bend which the car didn't. This explained everything.

"It's all a lot of Huey," said Sergeant Frank Kreml, who is very fond of puns.

FONDY MAN IS FINED FOR DRUNKENNESS

William Ott, 47 S. Sophia-st. Fond du Lac, was fined $10 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Monday morning when he pleaded guilty of drunkenness. He was arrested on W. College-ave about 1:30 Sunday morning by Sergeant Matthew McGinnis.

CONSERVATIVES TRY TO REVAMP PROGRAM

Council to Hold Meeting July 2 in London to Consider Prospects

London—(P)—The Conservative party, defeated at the polls, is endeavoring to set its house in order. On the day parliament formally opens, July 2, the council of the National Union of Conservative associations will meet in London to consider what is to be done.

J. L. Garvin, editor of the Observer who during the election campaign was one of those most active in demanding more aggressive Conservative tactics, wrote today: "Until we see a spirit and a system worthy of our whole adherence the political independence of this journal is absolute."

He called for a national progressive party to be formed by an alliance, "not a fusion," of what he calls revived unionism and self-respecting liberalism.

Within the Conservative party there is criticism of Stanley Baldwin, former premier, on the ground that had he adopted a more militant attitude the result might have been different. Some too are demanding the heads of the organizing chiefs, but these, it is held, represent the criticisms only of the minority. At the same time there is an urgent plea for the formulation of a policy which will enable the Conservatives to recover the ground they have lost.

HILL IS MENTIONED AS FOOD COMMISSIONER

Madison—(P)—The Madison Capital Times has learned, it said in a story recently, that C. L. Hill, Rosendale Wis., Guernsey breeder will be appointed dairy and food commissioner in place of C. J. Kremer, whose term expired in February.

Mr. Kremer's office is subject of a bill before the legislature consolidating it and several related offices in the department of markets. Governor Kohler is thought to have postponed appointment of someone in Kremer's place or reappointment of Kremer until the bill is passed or killed. It has his approval.

Any appointment by the governor might be in contemplation of passage of the consolidation bill, with the appointee remaining as chief deputy in charge of dairy and foods in the consolidated department.

UNIVERSAL WOULD OPPOSE R. C. A. IN FOREIGN FIELD TOO

Applies for 40 Trans-oceanic Channels for Radio Telegraph

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1929, by Cons. Press
Washington—A bid to become a full-sized competitor of the Radio corporation of America, in international as well as domestic radio telegraph communication, is made by the Universal Wireless communication company, Inc., in applying for forty trans-oceanic channels to augment its authorized continental radio-message network.

Timed to come on the heels of the federal radio commission's award of continental channels to the R. C. A.
Communications, Inc., the Universal request is based on the clear-cut issue that it desires to become an even competitor of the R. C. A., which now has an international network involving 32 foreign countries. It cites the terms of the radio law as to competition in radio and declares that to allow the R. C. A., both national and international facilities, and restrict the Universal to merely national facilities would be unfair competition.

The formal application will not be acted upon by the commission until next fall. In the meantime R. C. A. and Universal will continue their race to inaugurate their domestic net-works. Coincident with the filing of the Universal trans-oceanic application, R. C. A. announced that with its 20 continental channels and with the authority to use 30 of its transoceanic wave lengths during daylight, it will inaugurate its domestic service in 24 "strategic" cities immediately. The construction program was said to be already under way, with everything in practical readiness. It looks as if R. C.
A. will be the first to enter the field.

WANTS EXPERIMENT CHANNELS

Universal, aside from 40 construction permits for stations, based on the standard of but one tenth per cent separation between channels, whereas the standard separation is two tenths per cent, seeks five experimental channels in a band as yet unopened to communications and of which nothing is known. It is the band from 23,000 to 30,000 kilocycles—totally disregarded as "unknown and untried" etherial territory. Dr. John Nathanson, general representative of Universal, said the company seeks to experiment in an endeavor to develop these unknown quantities for practical use.
It is prepared to undergo the expense involved in such experimentation in the interests of developing the radio art, he said. The commission commends this attitude.

In a letter submitted by Edward E. Gann, attorney for Universal, and brother-in-law of vice-president Curtis, along with the applications, it was explained that the trans-oceanic stations are to communicate primarily with foreign countries, in 24-hour service, and secondarily in domestic point to point daytime commercial service, just as the R. C. A. is authorized to do. It is made clear that the Universal has established by agreements and contracts in writing with foreign radio communication companies, for the transmission of trans-oceanic messages, specifically with Buenos Aires, and Madrid, Spain. It is now negotiating for similar contracts with other foreign countries.

FIRST CLASS MAIL TO HAVE C. O. D. PRIVILEGE

Effective on July 1 the federal postal department is extending C. O.
D. service to all first class and registered matter. Previous to this time only matter sent second, third or fourth class could be sent C. O. D.
Under the new regulations, however,
the service will permit the dispatch of written and sealed matter, as well as registered matter, on a C. O. D. basis. Notice of the change was received at the Appleton post office this week.

PLAYGROUND SCHEDULE IS SLIGHTLY CHANGED

Pierce park will be available for use as a playground instead of the Third Ward school grounds, according to A. C. Denney, in charge of playground activities in Appleton.
Eib park and the Roosevelt school grounds, which adjoin each other and which are fully equipped, will be used instead of the grounds at the Columbus school.

Foxgloves, Canterbury Bells Pretty Biennials

Some gardeners are inclined to fight shy of biennials, which are plants that must be started fresh from seed every year to keep them in stock as they bloom their second year an dthen die. Foxgloves and Canterbury bells are the commonest biennials and two of the most beautiful subjects. While frequently grown together, they like soils of entirely different character to be at their best.

The Canterbury bell favors a lime soil while the foxglove luxuriates in acid quarters being naturally a woodland plant. It is best to start these two biennials now to have big plants to store in cold frames for the winter, the only really safe way of being certain of having them as they winterkill badly in many sections being unable to stand winter wet although perfectly hardy so far as cold is concerned.

Another biennial which is slowly growing into favor because of its stately grace, long a favorite in English gardens, is the mullein or verbascum. The stately spikes of light yellow and pure white bloom are beautiful as associates for the stately delphiniums. The mulleins bloom for the greater part of the summer. Once you have them you always have them as they are free seeders and their chief drawback is the necessity of hoeing up myriads of young mulleins each spring. However, they are an easily disposed of plant as one swipe of the hoe finishes them.

A mullein for the rock garden is a perennial. This is the Phoenician mullein which has dark green corrugated leaves lying flat on the ground and airy spikes of bloom no more than 18 inches high at most,
in pinks, flesh and rosy purple tones.
It is a plant for a shaded portion of the rock garden where its rosettes and graceful spikes are very ornamental.

The Sweet Williams is another biennial although it is not truly biennial in character as the foregoing plants as often it will live for several seasons. It is best, however, to treat it as a biennial and raise fresh plants each year.

sity of Wisconsin in Camp Randall stadium will be broadcast from the university station, WHA, Monday, June 24 at 8 a. m., according to an announcement by H. L. Evbank, chairman of the university radio committee.

By special action of the University board of regents, other Wisconsin stations have been invited to join a bookup with WHA for broadcast of the exercises.

ARRAIGN MENASHA MAN ON LARCENY CHARGE

Menasha—Martin Baldauf of Menasha was taken into municipal court at Oshkosh Saturday by the sheriff's department charged with larceny as a bailee. The complaint in the action was signed by the defendant's sister, Mrs. Anna Welch. It was alleged that Baldauf took money belonging to his sister and to nine other relatives, all heirs of Rose Neukirchen and Charles Baldauf.

According to the authorities Baldauf acted as agent for the other heirs in the estate, collecting rent for himself and them. The specific offense with which he is charged is that of larceny as bailee of $45 on Jan. 6. Judge Goss set the preliminary hearing for Tuesday, June 18. Baldauf was required to furnish bond of $200 for his appearance in court on that day.

CHRISTOPH APPOINTS PLAYGROUND HELPERS

Neenah—Coach George Christoph has selected his assistants for the playgrounds which opened Monday morning. Leonard Neubauer will have charge of Columbia park, Frederick Olson will be at Doty Island park and Mrs. Helen Jensen will be at McKinley school grounds. Coach Christoph has received two trophy cups from the Gerhardt Agency which will be given to the boy and girl who brings to the bathhouse the largest number of non-swimmers for lessons. The candidates must keep up lessons until dismissed by the coach as good swimmers.

HISTORIC SPOT NEAR OSHKOSH IS MARKED

Neenah—Edward Fueschel and family attended the ceremonies Sunday at the George Oyston farm near Oshkosh relative to placing a marker on the site of the first trading post established in Winnebago county in 1818. The ceremonies were under the auspices of the Winnebago archaeological society of which Mr. Fueschel is a member. The society is planning to mark many historic spots in the county, several of them in Neenah and Menasha. In order to secure such markers, the citizens must take initial steps and place the proposition before the society which in turn will secure the cooperation of the state society according to Mr. Fueschel. Charles Brown, state historian, of Madison, and head of the historical research work at the Milwaukee public museum, was the speaker at the afternoon.

FIRST MASS SAID BY YOUNG PRIEST

Rev. John Murphy Conducts Initial Service at St. Mary Church

Menasha—St. Mary school was honored this month by the ordination to the Catholic priesthood of two of its former pupils, the Rev. Frank A. Francant and the Rev. John Murphy. The former read his first mass at St. Mary church Sunday, June 9, and the latter Sunday, June 16. Almost a dozen priests have received their early training at St. Mary school.

The Rev. Murphy read his first mass before a congregation that taxed the capacity of the church. The presbyterial assistant was the Rev. John Hummel, pastor; deacon, the Rev. Frank A. Francant; sub-deacon, the Rev. N. J. Langendorf; masters of ceremony, Sylvester VanBerkel, James Kelly; thrifters Hillard Walbrun, Joseph Resch; acolytes, Paul Beyer, Joseph Kaiser, Clarence Resch, preacher; the Rev. William O'Connor, Ph. D., St. Francis seminary.

Edna bride was Marie Joan Murphy, sister of the priest, and the groom, Margaret Jan was the Rev. John Hummel, pastor; deacon, the Rev. Frank A. Francant; sub-deacon, the Rev. N. J. Langendorf; masters of ceremony, Sylvester VanBerkel, James Kelly; thrifters Hillard Walbrun, Joseph Resch; acolytes, Paul Beyer, Joseph Kaiser, Clarence Resch, preacher; the Rev. PROPOSES MERGER OF 17 LAKE ERIE SHIP LINES

Cleveland, Ohio—(P)—A proposal to merge 17 Lake Erie steamship lines in a deal involving between 40 and 50 million dollars was proposed by Otis and company, bankers in letters to the affected companies today.

The banking house would place about 115 freighters with a capacity of approximately 1,000,000 deadweight tons under one concern, which would buy outright and operate all properties of the merger, according to terms of the plan. Iron ore, fluting stone and grain and the chief cargoes of the shipping companies receiving the proposal.

The letters asked that answer be made within two weeks, in order that the merger may be made operative by Aug. 15.

The proposed company was said to have been under consideration for several years but the plan of Otis and company, it was said, was the first to set within definite limits the scope of the deal.

No intimation of possible officers or directors of the proposed company was given.

METHODIST CLIP SHEET RAPPS WET NEWSPAPERS

Washington—(P)—The clip sheet issued by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church today contained a summary of recent killings by prohibition agents and declared "wet journalistic champions" had run the "gamut of abuse and sob" in regard to the "outrages of officers of the law who are attempting to suppress criminal bootleggers."

At the same time Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board, decried published reports that the board officially approved the killings.

"We simply called attention," Mr. Pickett said, "to the cases in question and to the disposition made of some of them by authorities. The board did not attempt to pass judgment on any of them, since we have investigated only two. The statement was all in the nature of a warning as to stories appearing in the wet press."

The cases referred to were the sentencing of a man to life in Michigan for the sale of a pint of liquor; the killing of Mrs. DeKing in Aurora, Ill.; the slaying of Jacob Hanson in northern New York; the "I'm alone case"; the slaying by Patrolman Rouse of the District of Columbia of Otto Herman, alleged runner and the shooting of J. W. Kendrick by officers at Abingdon, Va.

The board emphasized that in none of the slayings had the officers involved been convicted by a jury.

BILL ON REAL ESTATE SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

Madison—(P)—Governor Kohler has signed the Senate bill that includes real estate with the saleable matter that may not be fraudulently advertised. Following agitation among real estate brokers that some firms were making glamorous statements concerning their land which were found untrue, the legislature passed the bill making penalties attach to such illegal advertising.

Other minor bills approved by the executive included measures relating to: enactment of village ordinances, village planning, bounties, transportation of school children, dog license funds, and state highway system.

The governor approved an appropriation of $55,000 for expenses of the committee investigation practices of Circuit Judge E. B. Belden, of Racine. The committee will consider possibility of sustaining impeachment charges against him before the Assembly.

ARTILLERY BRIGADE IN TRAINING FOR TWO WEEKS

Sparta—(P)—The 57th Provisional Field Artillery brigade of the Wisconsin National Guard, made up of two regiments numbering 1,500 officers and men, began two weeks of intensive training here this morning.

The unit is commanded by Brig. Gen. Irving A. Fish, Milwaukee. The regiments, the 150th and the 121st, are commanded by Col. A. Kuchenneister and Col. A. H. Smith, both of Milwaukee.

This week, the mornings will be devoted to dismounted drill by the batteries. Firing practice comes next week. The afternoons are devoted to schools of instruction for the officers and athletic training and sports for the men.

In addition to the national guardsmen, there are some 750 regular army troops in camp, making up 18 artillery units from Fort Des Moines, Ia.; Fort Snelling, Minn., and Fort Sheridan, Ill. There also are 40 reserve officers and 80 R. O. T. C. students in training.

Governor Kohler and staff are expected to review the national guard brigade next Sunday, June 23.

FIRST AMERICAN PAIR WED IN VATICAN STATE

Vatican City—(P)—John Frank Comerford, president of the New England Power association and Miss Mary McLoughlin, a graduate of Simmons college and Boston University law school, were married today in the first American wedding to be held in the newly created Vatican state.

Monsignor Francis J. Spellman of Whitman, Mass., was the celebrant, the service being held in a private chapel of St. Peter's cathedral.

Mr. Comerford is also vice-president and treasurer of the International Paper and Power company.

VESTRIS INQUIRY NEAR ITS CLOSE IN LONDON

London—(P)—The inquiry of the board of trade into the sinking of the liner Vestris last year entered its closing phases today after 25 days occupied in hearing evidence. Some witnesses have been recalled to clear up obscure points while the technical evidence remains to be heard before counsels speeches can be delivered.

Counsel for the engineer officers of the Vestris submitted an affidavit by Chief Engineer James Adams in reply to a statement made by a passenger in previous testimony.

The passengers' statement was to the effect that one boat containing eight of the Vestris crew and one officer, who the passenger was informed, was the chief engineer, had rowed away from the scene of the wreck and did not return to pick up survivors in the water until an hour after the ship had gone down.

Adams replied in his affidavit that if any boat acted in such a manner as the passenger described it was not his.

He declared that he was himself in the water until three quarters of an hour after the ship had gone down and after he was picked up he steered his boat to people whom he saw afloat. His boat succeeded in picking up others until eventually there were 23 persons aboard.

Yellow Bird Aviators Get Paris Cheers

noon, with other festivities to follow which probably will continue through several days.

It is doubtful whether the city of Paris or the government will give the fliers an official reception.

PAIRED BY MINISTER

The air ministry some time ago forbade trans-oceanic flights and was on record as definitely opposed to the attempt of Assolant, LeFevre and Lotti. When M. Lorent-Eyma, French minister of air, felicitated the fliers last night at LeBourget in the name of the government he said: "You have succeeded in achieving one of the finest exploits in aviation, undisciplined perhaps, but quite pardonable since you achieved your purpose."

With a smile, Assolant replied, "undisciplined I have often been, my dear old chief. Commandant Weiss, can tell you that." As a matter of fact, only a few minutes before he had violated the regulation against low flying over the city of Paris as he came from Spain.

To most Frenchmen the young stowaway, Schreiber, remained a great puzzle today with the French morning press giving him a great deal of space but largely as a curiosity.

His talkativeness in his own language, his incessant repetition of the three French words, "Vive La France," his waving of an American flag, and his general demeanor, were quite inexplicable to the local French mind.

The French newspapers have dubbed him with the word applied by the three Frenchmen who were infuriated at finding him aboard the plane last Thursday but later befriended him, the word being, "le polisson," which in its mildest form may be translated, "the rascal."

Completion of the flight begun last Thursday at Old Orchard, Me., occurred at dusk, when it was rainy and dismal. The plane appeared over the field to the accompaniment of cheers.

It circled the famous air dome once or twice and finally came down, zooming towards the ground at 125 miles an hour and finally throttling down to land perfectly at 60 miles an hour.

The flight from Comillas, where the plane landed out of fuel Friday night, was made with one stop, at Mimizan les Bains near Bordeaux, France. This was made necessary by Assolant's having thrown overboard the plane's old empty gasoline tanks, his idea being to lighten the plane and neutralize the additional weight of the stowaway.

The take-off from Cape Chabre, near Comillas, was at 5:55 p. m. (10:55 a. m. Appleton time).

One of Assolant's first moves after setting his foot on the field at LeBourget was to call his bride of a few days, Miss Pauline Parker, a New York girl, over the transatlantic telephone.

Lotti, with one success bright in his eyes, revealed a plan for an attempt to make the westward crossing to the Atlantic. He said: "We will try to make the other way next time, Paris to New York, and without stop anywhere. Perhaps officialdom will permit us to try it now that we have proved we can do it." Lotti revealed that shortly after discovery of Schreiber aboard the plane he made him sign a contract, guaranteeing 50 per cent of his earnings, from writing about his flight to Assolant and LeFevre. Lotti himself is independently wealthy. A syndicate offered the young American $20,000 for his narrative.

The desire of Schreiber for "presentable" clothes materialized today when "Father" Lotti, parent of the financial backer of the flight, discovered him wandering about the corridors of the hotel, attired just as he was when he hid in the planes tail. He was taken in hand with more or less despatch by his host who gave him one of young Lotti's shirts, one of his spare suits, and a spare pair of shoes. He was taken down stairs then to be photographed with the fliers and Lotti Sr.

He occupied the center of the picture, remaining in the foreground while the photographers were working and during the fliers brief interview with the press. Assolant, Rene LeFevre, and Lotti took their honors modestly and seemed quite satisfied to allow their stolen passenger to take the lead.

They even remained silent while the youngster went into a technical explanation of the details of the flight, dwelling particularly on the fact there remained no gas aboard when the machine landed on Spanish soil.

REAL ESTATE DEALER IS HELD FOR MURDER

Santa Ana, Calif.—(P)—John McClure, 55, Long Beach, Calif., real estate dealer, was held here today for questioning in connection with the death of Mrs. Myrtle Wood, 40-year-old Long Beach widow, whose body was found with a bullet wound in the head at Laguna Beach, Calif., Saturday.

McClure was returned to Santa Ana by County Sheriff Sam Jernegan from San Diego, Calif., where he had been turned over to United States authorities by Tijuana, Lower Calif., police. He was found wandering below the Mexican border a few hours after Mrs. Wood's body was discovered at Laguna Beach, a short distance from here.

McClure stuck to his original story that he had been shot by two robbers at Laguna Beach. He said he could not remember what had happened to Mrs. Wood. He said that he had taken the woman out to look at some property.

Orange-co hospital authorities dressed McClure's wound and said that it was not serious.

Mrs. Ina Lowell, daughter of Mrs. Wood, said she saw her mother for the last time Thursday night, when she left to go to McClure's home. McClure was said to have been courting Mrs. Wood. Mrs. Lowell declared Mrs. Wood had left with the intention of ending her friendship with McClure.

CAN'T PARDON PEOPLE U. W. WOULD DEPORT

Madison—(P)—Governors of Wisconsin do not have the power to grant federal immigration department requests for pardon of Wisconsin prisoners the department wants to deport.

This opinion from the attorney general to Col. W. L. Smith, the governor's private secretary, said the Wisconsin statutes on minimum sentence, formalities of release, hearing and notices, must be complied with before the governor could pardon convicts.

The governor's secretary said he had several requests from the immigration authorities for such releases.

OWEN D. YOUNG GETS DEGREE IN NEW JERSEY

Clinton, N. J.—(P)—Owen D. Young, chairman of the recent reparations commission, today was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of laws by Hamilton college.

She said she planned to take passage on the first available ship and join him in Paris.

She was indignant at Arthur Schreiber, the stowaway, and said that had she known that anyone could have flown with her husband and his companions, she, not Schreiber, would have been the stowaway.

WHEN in the course of human events it becomes necessary for the alleged baseball experts to chronicle the whys and wherefores of baseball clubs, it isn't a half bad job if the home team crashes through with a victory once in a while. But when the boys go out and have all their bad luck in the mere course of two hours and a few odd minutes and have pitching that makes even the bat boy think he'll be a Waite Hoyt in another week, then it's something else again, and you might as well name it.

In other words we're trying to politely inform the reading public that the Appleton baseball club lost another ball game Sunday afternoon. Menasha was the victor and the score was 11 and 2.

The story of the trimming is one of bad luck and no real pitching talent. Young Clarence Stoffel started the game and he had all the bad luck in the world and went away at the end of the third inning, thoroughly disheartened. Manager Kotal then trotted out a new comer named Skibba who hails from up at Antigo. The new addition to the club had a slow ball, a slower ball and a prayer. The three worked fine until the ninth inning when the Pails revised their timing tactics and hit on him for five solid swipes and five runs which the prayer failed to help.

Menasha, on the other hand had Nixon and that was all that was of the game. He started against the Pails and he left off in the first game of the season and retired the hard hitting talent on the club with ease, counting 14 strikeouts before the afternoon's labors were over. And with the six run lead mates gave him in the first two innings he coasted through to an easy win.

The Pails counted two hits in the first inning but four runs crossed the plate despite the scarcity of blows. Joe Muench greeted Stoffel with a double to left on the first ball pitched and scored. Then came a fielder's choice of Skibba's batted ball. Harry Leopold drew a walk and the sacks were loaded. Jerry Powell eased the tension by fanning but Sy Shieski put his club out in front with a double that counted three runs. Shieski then scored while Tornow was throwing out Lewandoski.

Two consecutive errors, one by Schultz, the other by Stoffel started the Pails on their way to two runs in the second inning. Skibba, first up was safe when he batted and then tossed wide to first. Skibba then hit to Stoffel and all hands were safe when he got the ball mixed up in his feet. Joe Muench followed with a drive to first and Eggert caught Handler at third. But the inning was far from over for J. Shieski drove one down the third base line and Nixon counted. Muench holding up at third. Joe Muench took a wild toss by Stoffel.

The tall boy got through the third inning safely but when the show started at the end of the frame and Skibba came to the mound, then followed a flock of slow balls and slower ones which the Pails obliging hit up into the air and no damage was done until the ninth inning came round. Muench started the inning by flying out to left but J. Shieski singled thorough short and Leopold dropped one out in center field. Powell changed the situation by lofting to Kotal but it was a long time before the third man was retired.

Sy Shieski took a jaunt to fill the bases and Lewandoski scored. J. Shieski and Leopold with a single through short. Weisgerber then sent S. Shieski and "Crabbe" over the plate with a double and counted on Handler's double. Nixon ended the frame by flying out.

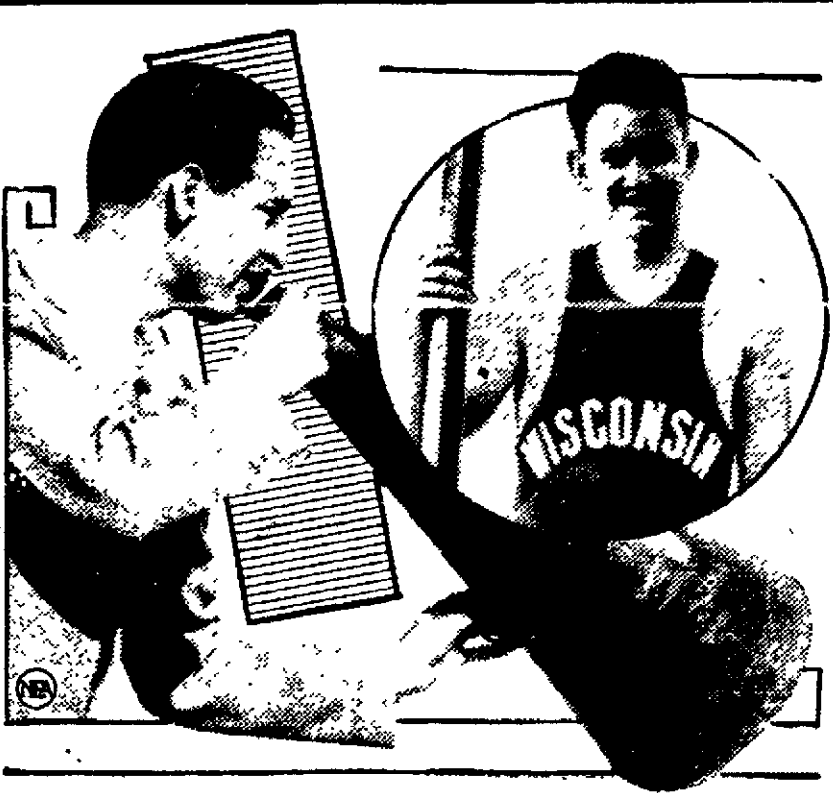

The Pails in the meantime were finding Nixon a rather tough proposition. Murphy got a double off him in the first frame and Eggert a single in the second but both men singled on the bases. In the fourth inning Hillman was safe on a fielder's choice and went to third on Eggert's double. Dats Crowe sent both men home with a single and went out to retire the side when he tried the stretch the blow to a double. After the uprising the Pails failed to get a hit.

MARRINER AND DORVAL WILL FIGHT TONIGHT

Chicago—(P)—The 10-round bout between Les Marriner, former world champion of Illinois football player, and Kolocek Jack Dorval, Pennsylvania heavyweight, twice postponed because of unfavorable weather, was up for settlement at White City Monday night.

Marriner is attempting a comeback after a ring injury suffered eight months ago.

THAT former boxer has not been called upon to officiate as a referee of boxing contests sometime during his career. Being no exception to the rule, I've done my share of giving instructions instead of taking them.

Probably the greatest thrill I have ever felt as a referee came when I pulled the boys apart in a sparring contest during my stay in Spartanburg, S. C., in 1917. My commanding officer was one of those rare sportsmen who thought it far better for the boys to put on the gloves to settle their grievances than to go through all the red tape of a court martial to decide the winner of an argument.

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

De Pere 9, Appleton 8 (ten innings).
Kaukauna 11, Asketon 5.
Wrightstown 6, Murphy's 4.

Appleton Athletics piled up a big lead in a game against DePere at DePere Sunday, and then became careless and lost the decision 9 and 8 in ten innings. But as Asketon also took a trimming things aren't so bad despite the fact the Little Fox league race has tightened up considerably.

The Fourth warders started like demons and drove Kellerman off the mound in the second inning when ten hits accounted for seven runs, five in the first inning on five hits and two in the second on five more hits. Gaffney replaced Kellerman and the A's found him for their last run in the fourth inning.

Bratigan who does the twirling for the Fourth warders allowed three hits in the first inning and DePere counted two runs. He then held the northern club helpless until the seventh inning when two more runs were chased over the plate to be followed by three counters in the eighth and the score tied.

George Verbrick replaced Bratigan with one out in the eighth and tied the score. He also failed in the ninth inning. In the tenth Raymaker of DePere singled and Dick bunted. E. Verbrick dropping the toss to get Raymaker at second. Kane grounded out and Becker fanned. Gaffney then rolled a grounder at Kugler and when he let it go through his legs, Raymaker scored with the winning run.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS WALLOPS FONDY

Central Wisconsin Team Finds New Cardinal Hurler Is Easy

Wisconsin Rapids—Pitcher Roth, who held the league leading Kim-Little Chute team to two runs last Sunday, was easy picking for Wisconsin Rapids Sunday, the locals winning 14 to 1. Roth left the box in the third frame, after seven runs had been pounded off his delivery.

Pete Sokolosky did his first full game on the mound for the Rapids and allowed only four hits. As a result of the game the Rapids are still in third place in the league.

PAINE LUMBER TRIMS WILD ROSE, 6 AND 3

Oshkosh—(P)—Superior twirling on the part of Swanson who allowed but six hits helped the Paine Lumber company nine defeat Wild Rose here Sunday, 6 to 3, in a Winnebago baseball league game. Swanson also pounded out a home run in the sixth frame.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

THE Brooklyn Robins once held the world's record for hitting cast off players.

But the Boston Braves have taken the record away from them.

The Robins are composed of Siler from the Browns, Maguire from the Giants and Cubs, Mannville from Boston, Pittsburgh and St. Louis, Dugan from the Athletics and the Yankees, Richbourg from the Giants, Mueller from the Cards and the Giants, Harper from the Reds, the Phillies, the Cards and the Giants, Spohrer from the Giants, Cunningham from the Cubs, Cantwell from the Giants, Taylor from Brooklyn and the Giants, Jones from the Cubs, Jack Smith from the Cards, Pat Collins from the Yankees, and then there are Johnny Evers and Hank Gowdy.

Because he never played ball.

Here's How Golf Ball Can Be Hit

New York—(P)—If you want to know how far a golf ball can be driven take a glance at these distances recorded in an allcomers open driving tournament conducted by the New York Daily News:

Senior Men—John P. Collins, 289 yards, 6 inches.
Junior Men—Bernard Voight, 284 yards, 6 inches.
Professionals—Bobby Cruickshank, 271 yards, 1 foot, 7 inches.
Caddies—Joseph Colombo, 270 yards, 2 feet.
Senior Girls—Helen Hicks, Inwood, 246 yards, 5 inches.
Professional baseball players—Bob Shawkey, New York Yankees, 264 yards, 10 inches.

BANKERS COP FROM VALLEY IRON TEAM

National League Softballers Have Completed Half Schedule

The Banker softball team in the National league copped another game last Friday by downing the Valley Iron team 6 to 5. The Banks counted 13 hits and the Irons 11.

The Banks jumped off to a four run start by scoring two runs in the first and again in the second inning. The Machine company in the meantime got a lone run in the second inning. The third and fourth innings were scoreless for both teams but the Banks counted a run in the fifth frame and again in the sixth while the machine company was getting two runs in the sixth.

Trailing by three runs in the eighth inning the losers went out and staged a big rally that fell short of tying the score by a lone run. Two counters were pushed over the plate before the Bankers put down the uprising.

Play in the National loop will be resumed Monday night with a couple postponed games being played off. The regular schedule for the week shows Saturdays and the Post-Crescent playing Tuesday; Grand and Interlakes Wednesday; Legion and Bankers Thursday and Valley Iron and Co. D. Friday; Half the league schedule has been played to date.

APPLETON SOFTBALL TEAM LOSES, 12-5

Fox River Paper Company Downed by Oshkosh Cubs Sunday Morning

Fox River Paper company softball team of Appleton lost its inter city game with the Oshkosh Cubs, formerly the Auto Specials, at Wilson junior high school grounds Sunday morning. The score was 12 and 5 in favor of the invaders.

Oshkosh opened the first inning with a two run lead and counted three more in the third frame. The Fox River in the meantime was scoreless until the third when two runs were pushed over the rubber. The locals counted one run in the fourth and fifth innings, and a lone run in the eighth to end the scoring.

Schmeling Not Secretive About His Fight Plans

BY JOHN J. ROMANO Copyright 1929

NEW YORK—Max Schmeling makes no attempt to hide the plan of battle he means to wage against Paulino Uzcudun on June 26. Schmeling is working over time to perfect a short right cross inside of a left lead. He does this in front of the assembled scribes and spies, if any, from the Basque camp.

Schmeling's chief stock in trade is a straight right, one of the best on view in a good while, but this does not prevent him from using it more than any other blow in his repertoire. A hooking left to straighten up his man and the right flashes out even before the left lead is drawn back to place. Observes of Paulino in training say that Schmeling will have to hit the mark or he will leave himself open for one of the Basque's sweeping left hooks. Max laughs when this is brought to his attention. Although he has never boxed Paulino before he is well acquainted with the Basque's style of fighting. He saw Paulino in several fights on the other side and the fact that most Europeans use the same style, covering up with the arms around the head and body, Paulino will be a puzzle to him.

King Solomon, a veteran who has been buffeted about quite a bit of late and has learned how to cover up well to avoid punishment, has been added to Schmeling's corps of

Macks Have Impressive Lead As One-Third Of Schedule Is Completed

Cincinnati Lights on Burleigh Grimes and He Loses First Game

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN Associated Press Sports writer

THE first third of the way has been traveled, but for the Athletics it has been anything but the hardest. Even though Cleveland outmanned the Mackmen by 10 to 9 in Cleveland Sunday as the Yankees were sinking the Tigers by 11 to 7 for the third time in four days, the Philadelphia passed the 51-game mark with 39 victories and only 12 defeats for a percentage of .765 and a lead of eight games over the Yankees.

Washington defeated Chicago by 5 to 3 and St. Louis turned back Boston by 5 to 2 in remaining American league fixtures.

The National league donnybrook became even warmer through the turn of the games Sunday. The Braves, who were supposed to supply an afternoon of clean fun for the Cardinals, so far forgot themselves to win two one-run decisions from the league champions 6 to 5 and 9 to 8. Billy Southworth risked his second line of pitching defense in the opener, but the Braves routed no less a person than Jess Haines in the Nightcap.

Much the same thing happened at Cincinnati. Donnie Bush got away with the first game by 8 to 3 while employing young Meine against Adolfo Luque and others, but the Reds amazed all hands in the second fray by knocking Burleigh Grimes from the box and giving him his first defeat of the season. He had ten victories. The score was 8 to 1, with Pete Donohue officiating for the Reds.

The Cubs meanwhile were taking a 7 to 2 jolt from the Phillies while the Giants were flattening the Robins in Flatbush, 11 to 4, behind the fine pitching of Carl Hubbell. Bengt fanned 13 Cubs just to make his triumph the more impressive.

These various results left the Cardinals still leading, but only by the skin of their teeth, with the Pirates barely ahead of the third-place Cubs. The Cards with .618 were three points ahead of the Buccaneers, who in turn were three points in front of the Robins. The Giants were only three and one half games from the lead when the battle smoke cleared.

At midnight Sunday night, the dead line on major league trades was reached, assuring that the exact makeup of the teams which will battle down to the wire, three and one-half months away.

PRESSMEN AND FOX RIVER ARE WINNERS

Pressmen Win from Schlafers and Papermakers Cop from Telephones

Tuttle Press and Fox River Paper company softball teams in the American league were victorious in games played Friday evening. On First ward and Wilson junior high school grounds. The Pressmen trimmed the Schlafers Hardware team 29 and 4 while the Fox River walloped the Telephone Wires team, 17 and 4.

The Tuttle Press team took affairs easy in the first three innings and counted three runs while their opponents were being held scoreless. In the fourth frame they batted in nine runs, five in the fifth inning, one in the sixth, three in the seventh and two in the eighth. Schlafers Hardware company teams counted its fourth run in the ninth of two in the seventh and ninth innings.

Fox River Paper team also took a big lead over the Telephone-Wires shortly after proceedings got underway. They counted a lone run in the first frame but got five in the second, four in the third, and three in the fourth. From then on it was clear sailing and although they counted another four runs they were hardly necessary to win the game. The Telephone Wires counted their sixth in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Games in the league scheduled for this week are Tuesday, Fox River versus Power company at First ward and Woolen Mills versus Tuttle Press at Wilson school. Thursday night Schlafers meet the Chair factory at First ward and Pettibone Peabody meets the Telephone-Wires at Wilson school.

boxing mates and the first session was a bad one for the king. Schmeling sensed the fact that Solomon was in the ring to stick around without taking unnecessary punishment and to nullify his right hand wallop. Max jockeyed around with his left paw and as Solomon attempted to dig left into his body Schmeling crossed neatly with his right and Solomon went back to his heels. Time after time the same tactics were used until Solomon retired a well beaten up and wearied boxer.

The motion pictures of the Jack Delaney-Paulino fight have been added to Schmeling's file and the pictures are being run off slowly so that Schmeling is able to observe and study the movies Paulino used to nullify Delaney's sharpshooting right. It will be recalled that Delaney could not get over the famous knockout blow for seven rounds and won when Paulino hit him low with a wild left.

Schmeling is a knockout puncher while the Basque is a wild man with his delivery. But it is safe to predict that the fight on the twenty-seventh will find both men trying hard for a knockout with Schmeling using the better tactics in that he will know what he is doing with every blow he directs toward his opponent. One cleanly driven blow may do the trick. The same holds good for Paulino with one of his wild ones.

MINOR SPORTS

Oshkosh, first; Manitowoc, second. (Oshkosh, Manitowoc, Appleton and East Green Bay competing).

Ice Hockey Appleton and Manitowoc tied for first. (Oshkosh, Appleton and Manitowoc competing).

BY GEORGE MAC FARLANE Manitowoc Herald-News

COACH SHIELDS' Appleton high school athletic teams took first honors during 1928-29 school year in the Fox River Valley conference, on the percentage basis, despite the fact they won but one championship out of the four major sports considered—football, basketball, cross country, and track. And that championship was a half point victory, 37½ to 37 over East Green Bay in the final competition of the season, the annual conference track and field meet held June 1, at Appleton.

Their net score was 7½, one point less than East Green Bay who finished second. But Appleton was up there at the top because the Orange squad finished with a tie for second in basketball, took second in football and also second in cross-country. So on the basis of general allround performance, the all season honors among the eight schools in the conference rightly belongs to Appleton. East Green Bay won second high honors with a football championship, second in track, tie for second in basketball and third place in cross-country.

Manitowoc high school finished in third place with an aggregate of 11 points and was the only school to win two titles among the four major sports. The Red and White basketball squad of Coach Johns won first place on the hardwood courts, while the cross-country team of the late Coach W. L. Johnson took the conference title at Marinette last fall. Manitowoc finished third in track but the best it could do was sixth in football.

The rating were figured on the basis of one point for first place, two points for second place, three points for third place and so on down to eighth place. In sports where all the schools do not compete, as for instance cross-country which found four of the conference schools sending no teams, the points for the last four places were added and divided by four to give these schools a point rating in cross-country. It was the same in track, in which Sheboygan and Fond du Lac had no entries. Here the last two places were divided between these two schools each being given 7½ points.

We believe that our deductions are fair to all eight teams in the conference and that the rating gives a general idea of how the various schools shape up athletically at the end of the year, when all major sports are completed and an average struck.

Had East Green Bay won the track meet at Appleton, Coach Wiley's athletes would have won two honors, with a total of 7½ points to 8½ points for Appleton. So it can be seen that this narrow margin of one-half a point in the track meet gave Appleton first place in the Valley conference for the 1928-29 athletic year.

And this half point victory and ultimate top honors of the conference for the year for Appleton, in a measure makes up for the things done to Coach Shields' basketball squad last winter by East Green Bay. On two successive weekends East high basketballers heat Appleton by a single point, but then, out of the running and assured first place in the basketball race for Manitowoc.

In addition to the two major sports tennis and hockey was also played by some of the schools. While no award was made, Oshkosh players won first place in Tennis play, while in ice hockey Manitowoc and Appleton broke even, each winning a couple of matches.

Oshkosh with a third in football, fourth in basketball, fifth in track and not competing in cross-country, finished fourth in the rating behind Manitowoc, with Marinette next with a fourth in cross-country, fifth in football, sixth in basketball and sixth in track.

Fond du Lac finished sixth with East Green Bay and Sheboygan bringing up the rear.

N. Y. COMMISSION TRIES TO UNTANGLE BANTAMWEIGHT MESS

Winner of Bout Monday Night Between Brown and Gregorio Will Be Champ

NEW YORK.—Another effort to do something about the bantamweight situation provides the nation with its principal athletic tid-bit this week.

Boxing authorities have been trying to find a champion for the 118 pounders ever since Charley Paul Rosenberg came in overweight in a titanic bout with Bushy Graham and thereby forfeited his title. The New York state athletic commission has agreed to recognize as "defending bantamweight champion" the winner of a 15 round clash at Brown and Vidal Gregorio at the Queensboro stadium Tuesday night. Brown, an anatomical specimen of weight, long has been an outstanding challenger for the title. The Panama Negro has been forced to do much of his campaigning in Europe, chiefly because he has had great difficulty in getting matches here. Gregorio, a rushing, tearing Spaniard, should test Brown to the limit.

Kid Chocolate meets Terry Roth, of New York, in the semi-final on the same card and Pete Myers, San Francisco, and Tony Vaccarelli, New York, slugfests welterweights, clash in another ten.

The week also will see the return to the ring of Young Strubling. The Macon heavyweight, idle since his defeat by Jack Sharkey, meets Babe Hunt of Ponca City, Okla., in a ten rounder at Wichita, Kansas, Monday night.

At Boston, Johnny Risko, the Cleveland brawler, will meet George Cook, of England, in the main ten rounder at Braves field Monday night. Risko originally was billed to fight Jimmy Maloney but the Boston heavyweight suffered an injury to his eye during training and was forced to withdraw.

BENGE OF PHILLIES STRIKEOUTS 13 CUBS

Chicago.—(P)—Ray Benge, sophomore right hander of the Phillies, gave the Chicago Cubs a setback in the won-lost column Sunday and at the same time within two of equalling the National league strikeout record of 16.

Benge fanning 13 Cubs—Charley Grimm was the only regular who did not strikeout at least once—Benge held the Chicago club to six hits.

Dazzy Vance is the only pitcher now in service who has equaled the league record. Perce Malone of the Cubs cut down 12 Phillies last week for a season mark which fell before Benge's footers Sunday.

Pocan Now Has Pitched 49 Consecutive Scoreless Innings

Green Bay.—(P)—Kim-Little Chute pitched Green Bay in whitewash, 6 to 0, Sunday, before the biggest crowd of the season, to continue undefeated in the Fox River Valley league.

Pocan allowed the Cubs but a pair of singles, while the Papermunks bunched their blows on Bo Molenda, former Michigan star, in the first two frames. Aside from pitching superbly, Pocan, who has not allowed a run in forty-nine innings, came through with three safe awats.

MILWAUKEE LOSES TWICE TO INDIANS

Kansas City and Minneapolis Continue to Battle for Leadership

Chicago.—(P)—It looks as though Kansas City and Minneapolis will have to settle the contest for the leadership of the American association strictly between themselves. For more than a week the leading pair have matched strides, each winning and losing on the same days, against other teams of the circuit.

The Blues divided a double header with Louisville Sunday, dropping the first one, 6 to 5 and coming back with a powerful batting attack to take the second, 13 to 5, after trouncing the Colonels, 10 to 2 Saturday.

Minneapolis also won Saturday, walloping Columbus, 12 to 6, and split even in a double bill Sunday. Brillheart pitched the Millers to a 9 to 4 edge in the first game Sunday, but Kenner, recently sent to the Senators by Cincinnati, permitted only three hits in the twilight contest and Columbus won, 5 to 0.

Toledo and St. Paul also broke even in a double header. The Mud Hens took the opener, 4 to 2, behind McQuillan's excellent pitching, but spent 11 innings and dropped the second game, 7 to 5. Shealy's fine relief pitching and Bruno Haas' single with the bases filled in the eleventh, were responsible for the Saint victory.

Indianapolis made it four straight over the Milwaukee Brewers by taking two games. The first game was a triumph for Ken Finner who allowed only four hits in 14 innings to gain a 2 to 1 decision. Ferd Schupp received credit for the second victory which was only six innings due to Indianapolis' 6 o'clock Sunday closing law. Schupp gave only two hits and gained a 5 to 0 margin.

FLYING COP WINS COAST TO COAST MARATHON CONTEST

Pete Gavuzzi in Second Place; Winner Gets $25,000 Prize

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—(P)—Bronzed of skin, haggard of face and worn to the point of exhaustion, Johnny Salo, 36, has conquered 3,655 miles of pavements, deserts and mountains to win C. C. Fyfe's transcontinental foot race and the $25,000 first prize.

By a margin of but two minutes and 47 seconds Salo triumphed in the gruelling, grim from New York City. That slim lead he held over Pete Gavuzzi, 115-pound British born Italian, in the total elapsed time standings when the transcontinental event came to an end here Sunday night. Under the schedule Gavuzzi is entitled to a prize of $10,000.

It was in the final hours of the lengthy race that Salo, a Passaic, N. J., policeman, blazed his trail to victory. He came from behind to snatch the winner's laurels from the wiry Gavuzzi in the last 26 miles 355 yards of the derby. The final lap was in the form of a marathon at Wrigley field. A crowd of 10,000 watched the event. Salo was first to finish the marathon, coming in 525 laps ahead of Gavuzzi.

Salo crossed the continent in 525 hours, 57 minutes and 20 seconds. Gavuzzi did it in 526 hours and 7 seconds.

More than twelve hours behind Gavuzzi, but in position for third place money—$5,000—came Giusto Umek, of Italy, who plodded from coast to coast in 535 hours, 46 minutes and 52 seconds. Sam Richman of New York, was next, ready to take the $3,500 prize for fourth place with a total of 571 hours, 29 minutes and 29 seconds.

A college youth, Paul Simpson of Burlington, N. C., registered 536 hours, 30 minutes and 53 seconds to garner fifth place and $2,500. Sixth in line was Philip Granville, Indian from Hamilton, Ont., who walked and loped an aggregate of 618 hours, 54 minutes and 23 seconds for $2,250 of the "pot of gold" at the transcontinental rainbow's end.

Poughkeepsie Watching As Crews Start Practice

BY LAWRENCE PERRY Copyright 1929

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—For a solid week, June skies have been smiling upon Westchester's fair hills. Old father Hudson, rolling grandly to the sea, lifts either baby billows or tiny wavelets as his capricious mood suggests and in any case he is always majestic, always lively.

Sometimes in the morning when the river is a broad band of glittering gems but more often when the waters have purpled in the late afternoon light and the disturbing winds have repaired into the fastnesses of the Catskills for the night you will see long, narrow objects suggesting eight legged water bugs stealing out into the stream from points along the west shore.

Down the Hudson water the city—"California is out" or "all the navy boats are overboard" whereupon everyone whose business it is to observe what may be observed leaps into a motor craft and tells the navigator to step on it.

Hours alternately dreamy, the romance of the Hudson all about, give way at a moment's notice to interludes filled with action, with the staccato bark of coxswains, to the rattle of sweeps in rowlocks, to the voices of the coxes coming through megaphones, the sharp, shattering rush of brazen bows through the water.

No one knows what is going to happen on the famous Poughkeepsie course not quite two weeks hence. Just when the issue seemed to lie between Columbia and California the navy begins to act as Uncle Sam ever expects his charges to act when conflict draws nigh. And Cornell when she arrives is expected to come reports from Cayuga, to show the best outfit since the days of Courtney.

California—this is the word to describe this shipload of young stalwarts from the golden coast, Washington bears the sobriquet, "Isus-kies," but if any crew was ever huskier than these men of Berkeley then the writer's memory is failing.

Yet upon these aquatic bears seems to sit a grimness which is hardly to be looked for in a crew, seven men of which centered up their whole world in 1923. They swag their oars with the men of yore, sters who do not know what minute they may be jostled out of their seats, relegated to a subordinate shell. And the touchstone of this mood is Ky Ebright, the diminutive coach who, coming from the University of Washington, took Berkeley rowing by the

A half dozen of the country's leading sprinters are entered in the special invitation race at the twilight meet to be conducted at the stadium by the Metropolitan association A. A. U. Booked to run in this event are Claude Bracey, Rice Institute flier who was only a foot behind Simpson when he ran his great race; Eddie Tolan, Negro flash from the University of Michigan; Karl Wildermuth, of Georgetown, inter-collegiate champion at the distance; Reginald Bowen University of Pittsburgh, who runs in all the sprints and holds the intercollegiate 440 title; Jimmy Daley at Holy Cross; Bob McAllister, the flying cop and

For it is this diminutive man who has put the fear into his illustrious galley slaves. Last winter they had the idea, these oarsmen, that their places in the varsity boat were theirs by inalienable right. Ebright let them so far quite a while and then, not long before the race against Washington, he dived a lot of them out of the shell, filling it with "junior varsity" men. Later, when they had earned disposition, they were restored to their seats. Result, a clean-cut victory over the huskies.

WINDY CITY COPS AMERICAN DERBY

Clyde Van Dusen, Kentucky Derby Winner Is Struggling Eighth

Chicago.—(P)—The claim of Clyde Van Dusen to the title of the best three year old of the season, established by his victory in the Kentucky derby, has dwindled, and Jimmy Quinn, of the New York A. C., another former Holy Cross star, sharing interest with the century is the invitation mile in which Leo Leonard, husky Boston A. A. runner, Joe Hickey, intercollegiate champion from New York university and Gus Moore, young Negro cross-country star of the Brooklyn harriers are to try conclusions.

Windy City, winner of the American Derby Saturday, as arisen to a position of serious consideration.

Clyde Van Dusen, son of Man O'War, found the going too tough in ington park track, and he finished a struggling eighth in a field of nine horses. Dr. Freeland, winner of another major state, the Breakers, could do no better than fourth, while Naishapur, only added to his reputation as a great finisher by taking second to Windy City. African, one of the hopes of the east, was third.

Three major tests remain to be decided and Clyde Van Dusen, Windy City, Dr. Freeland and Blue Larkspur, which did not run at Washington park Saturday, all have opportunity to establish a definite claim. The big races yet to be run are the Latonia derby next Saturday, the Dwyer stakes at Aqueduct and the American classic at Arlington Park, July 13.

made of its neck and in five years created a world-famous system.

For it is this diminutive man who has put the fear into his illustrious galley slaves. Last winter they had the idea, these oarsmen, that their places in the varsity boat were theirs by inalienable right. Ebright let them so far quite a while and then, not long before the race against Washington, he dived a lot of them out of the shell, filling it with "junior varsity" men. Later, when they had earned disposition, they were restored to their seats. Result, a clean-cut victory over the huskies.

TWO CUB FANS PINCHED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Chicago.—(P)—Two Cubs' fans Monday faced charges of disorderly conduct, following a near riot at the Phillies-Cub game Sunday.

The trouble started when Dennis Southern, Philadelphia outfielder, was said to have spat in the face of Charles Ransom, secretary of Jim Mullen, Chicago boxing promoter and matchmaker. Borrow was said to have "ridden" Fresno Thompson, Phillie infielder, causing Southern to break into the argument.

Borrow struck Southern, and was arrested. He later was released when a crowd of several hundred Cub fans staged a demonstration in front of the town hall police station. The police arrested Herman Velle and Harrison on disorderly charges and leaders of the demonstration.

BETTER COMMUNITY SURVEY BRINGS OUT KENOSHA-CO NEEDS

Find Lack of Education Equipment, Health Work and Adult Reading

Kenosha—(P)—Kenosha-co is deficient in education equipment, health work, adult reading, and recreational opportunities, preliminary studies completed today by a citizen "better communities survey" committee revealed.

Kenosha-co is the first in Wisconsin, however, to make this self-diagnosis of living conditions, revealing facts in the three fields of health, education and recreation, and the committee hopes that by exposure of the ills they may attract remedial attention.

More than 85 citizens cooperated in testing the fitness of living conditions in the county, following similar surveys by several villages and cities in Wisconsin. The work in Kenosha-co and in the municipalities was and is being conducted under the auspices of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work.

Aubrey Williams, executive secretary of the conference and Prof. J. H. Kohn, of the agricultural economics department, University of Wisconsin, are cooperating with the state department of education, health, board of control and state library.

Pioneering in a field practically unmapped, Kenosha County Better Communities committee will use the facts so far uncovered for an exhaustive study of their county as a whole place in which to live. They will find out exactly what they have in the way of education, health and recreation. Then recommendations will be made, plans formulated, standards set up.

Average daily school attendance in the county shows wide variations of from 43 per cent to 99 per cent, the main causes of absence being illness and "work on the farm." The county education committee found eight-month schools have poorer attendance than nine-month schools, possibly because districts having nine-month schools have a correspondingly keener interest in opportunities given their children.

CAN'T SUPPORT SCHOOL
Five schools have a real valuation of less than $250,000 or too low to enable them to support a school sufficiently, according to minimums set by the state department of public instruction. The cost of running schools ranges from $47 to $380 per pupil. The per cent spent for teachers' service varies from 11.7 per cent to 80.5 per cent (being highest in small schools having only one teacher on small salary).

There is only one high school, Wilmot high school, in the county, outside of Kenosha city, and this is supported by an area 28 miles square. A small per cent of pupils living outside of high school districts go on to the higher grades.

Children read most of the books read in Kenosha-co. More books are used out of the traveling libraries than out of school libraries, and practically every school is reached by a box containing an average of 35 books for every month of the school year. Scarcely any adults' books are included.

Lack of thorough control over contagious diseases and epidemics, scarcity of practicing physicians available to citizens, and failure to test wells for pollution are the three outstanding health dangers by the committee of 13 which made the preliminary survey in health.

Only three physicians are available in the entire county, outside of Kenosha. They are in Salem, Bristol, and Pleasant Prairie. Except in four townships, the health officers are not physicians.

Private citizens do not immediately report contagious disease cases. During an epidemic the need for some such safeguard as having the county nurses make regular inspection of school children is seen by the committee.

There has been no pre-school examination of children in Kenosha-co for the past three years and twenty per cent of the children start school with some handicap.

Less than one per cent of Kenosha-co wells have been bacteriologically and chemically tested. Investigation shows 62 per cent of them near houses, and 50 per cent near barns. The grave danger of pollution is pointed to by the committee.

FIND CROSS-LIGHTING
Examination of school facilities from the health standpoint reveals that 23.5 per cent have cross-lighting, injurious to the eyesight. And 78.4 per cent of the schools have outdoor toilets, many in unsatisfactory conditions.

Kenosha-co has two county parks, probably used more by city people than by country people. It is well supplied with woods, golf courses, baseball diamonds, and swimming beaches.

"Natural resources, however, are rapidly being bought by private summer resorts for people from outside the county," the report said.

Fifteen town halls have stages, and there are pianos in nearly every hall, but town halls are used only to a limited extent. Most of them are ill-equipped, poorly situated, and poorly ventilated.

"The roadhouse situation presents the biggest recreation problem of the county. Dance halls are licensed and supervised, but many require a deputy and many are disorderly. The roadhouses are often a neighborhood menace to youth and property, attracting an undesirable class of people from larger population centers."

One-sixth of the children in Kenosha-co belong to 4-H clubs sponsored by the county agricultural agent. Only one out of the 465 club members has ever been in juvenile court.

Further growth in this field depends upon development of parental sanction and interest and upon better meeting places. Lack of leadership and training in the field of group music and singing is perhaps the weakest link in community recreation, and especially in 4-H club work.

There are but two gymnasiums in the whole county, at Wilmot and Treysa. School buildings are used

Of Interest To Farmers

POINTERS FOR THE EFFICIENT FARMER

(By U. S. Department of Agriculture)
Do not be too generous with salt when making sauerkraut. Excessive salt is one of the most common causes of failure. The best quantity is 2 1/2 per cent by weight of the packed cabbage it made when the weather is fairly cool.

Spraying will control most of the important fruit tree insect pests, but not borers. To combat these on apples, pears and other pome fruits the grower must resort to worming, which should be done in the spring and fall. For borers infesting stone fruits, especially the peach, perforatus is very largely used.

Millions of dollars are lost each year through damage by the sorghum midge to gain sorghums. Farmers' Bulletin 1566-F, issued by the department of agriculture, gives practical suggestions for reducing losses and for lessening and avoiding infestation.

Do not work a slow horse and a fast horse together. This causes loss of power and irritates both driver and horses.

Sound wood from chestnut trees in eastern forests killed by blight is just as satisfactory and as durable as wood from healthy trees. However, it is desirable to cut blight-killed chestnut trees promptly to avoid loss from decay or worm attack.

Corn silage for fattening lambs saves hay and grain and reduces the cost of grain. Care should be used in starting lambs on silage. A small quantity should be given at first and the amount gradually increased.

Be sure the silage is of good quality, free from mold and not too sour. Lambs weighing from 50 to 60 pounds should get about 15 pounds of silage a day in addition to grain and hay. Slightly larger quantities may be fed with proper protein supplement.

Butter should not be overworked. If it is, it deteriorates faster than by parent-teachers associations and community clubs, but the one-room schools are not adequate for community gatherings. Comparatively few facilities are available for the 4-H clubs of boys and girls.

HERE AND THERE WITH FARMERS

BY W. F. WINSEY

South Greenville—Two of the Greenville Home Economics groups and a part of the Appleton group gave a shower Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Schoettler for Miss Carrie Schaefer, daughter of Mrs. William Schaefer.

At the shower, the last demonstration meal of the season was served by the groups at a 4.30 o'clock dinner. The groups and the individuals of the groups made Miss Schaefer the recipient of much fine table linen and a large number of other articles appropriate to the occasion. The latter part of the present month, Miss Schaefer is to become the bride of Walter Barnetstey, Wausau.

John Schoettler, route 1, recently finished reshingling his farm building.

The recent rains gave the fields a regular old-fashioned soaking, and crops, backward on account of drouth and the prevailing low temperature took on a brighter color and other signs of renewed vigor. Small grain in a large number of fields is thin on the ground and short, corn is somewhat backward for this time of the year, but the stands are good, timothy is short and trying to head out, canning peas look fairly good, and alfalfa and the clovers promise exceptional yields. The fields are now fit for cabbage planting. In the past three days, the prospect for paying farm crops has improved fifty per cent.

Convention Will Be Held in Menasha, Starting June 23

Gustave Keller, Sr., of Appleton will address the Tuesday meeting of the Catholic Central-Verein of Wisconsin, and the Catholic Women's league, both of which will convene in Menasha Sunday, June 23.

After the usual welcome and presentation of the flag on Sunday, a solemn pontifical high mass will be held at 9.45 Sunday morning by Bishop Paul P. Rhode, Green Bay. Arrangements have been made for a mass meeting in St. Mary auditorium at 2.30 in the afternoon, at which the Rev. Father Hummel, pastor of St. Mary church will preside. The addresses will be delivered by Carl Becker of Milwaukee and Henry Ehr of Madison. In the evening the oratorical contests for young ladies and young men will take place in St. Mary school hall.

On Monday morning a joint meeting of the Central-Verein and the Catholic Women's league will be held. A. Schubert Madison, will deliver the chief address. On Tuesday morning a similar meeting will be held, with Gustave Keller, Sr., giving the address.

Delegates will begin to arrive on Saturday, June 22, at St. Mary auditorium will be the headquarters of the convention. The local committee at Menasha has arranged the program for the convention and has made all preparation to house the delegates and entertain them during their stay in Menasha. Delegates to the national meeting, to be held at Salem, Ore., will be chosen at Menasha.

LEADERSHIP IN HOUSE, SENATE GETS STIFF TEST

Census and Reapportionment Bill Causes Trouble in House

BY RUBY A. BLACK

Washington Bureau of Post-Crescent — Leadership in the Senate and the House of Representatives has tottered and stumbled and fumbled and recovered in the last week, delaying legislation for which the special session was called, but eventually working out the difficulties.

In the House the first blow to the powerful leadership of that body, which usually gets things done exactly as it wants things done, came over the census and reapportionment bill. First of all Republicans and Democrats alike revolted from their chosen leadership over the alien and "Negro" amendments and no control could be exerted. Finally the House extricated itself from its difficulties and found a parliamentary way to eliminate the amendments which would have cut down representation of Eastern and Southern states in Congress and in the electoral college.

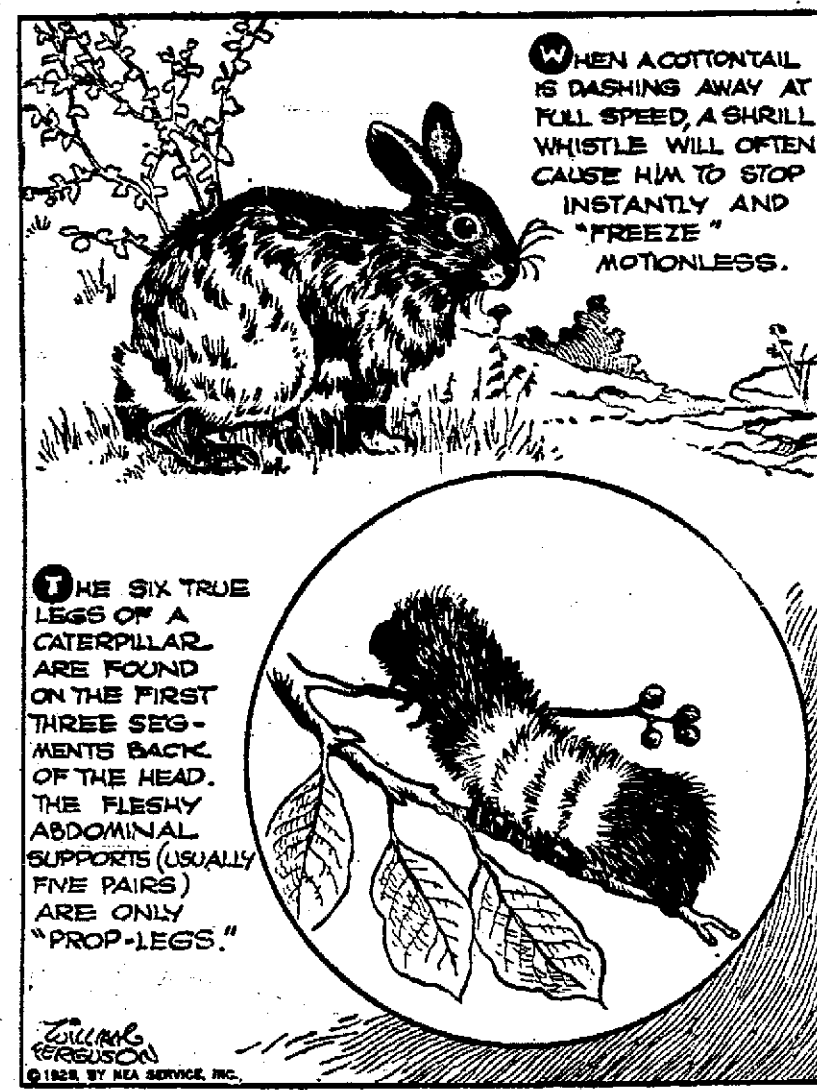

Thinking that, like the Marines, they had the situation well in hand, the leaders released their tension and differences in the Senate and the House bills were worked out in conference. But when the conference report came in, the mutiny flared up again and the conference report was committed to the conference committee, this time because the House insisted that May 1 instead of Nov. 1 was the proper time for taking the 15th decennial census.

Wisconsin congressmen joining in the second revolt and voting to send the bill back to conference were: Representative Merlin Hull of Black River Falls, who had voted against the bill in the first place; Representative James A. Frear of Hudson; and Representative John M. Nelson of Madison. The latter two had previously voted for the passage of the bill. They insisted, however, that Nov. 1, 1929, would be a bad date to take the census, as many farmers would be away from the farms. They finally agreed on April 1, 1930, as the date for the census to begin.

CONTESTANTS DO WELL
Wisconsin's two contestants in the United States Flag association contest gave excellent accounts of themselves, although neither of them won one of the four coveted trips around the world. Jean Margaret Desel of New London, was elected secretary of the central region contest which she won for girls. Richard M. Fellows of Algoma was the other Wisconsin student here seeing the Capital as winner of the central region contest for boys. These two gave the best answers to 75 questions about the flag and wrote the best essays on the flag in the central division.

They were photographed on the steps of the Capitol with Representatives George J. Schneider of Appleton and Edward E. Browne of Waupaca, their congressmen.

Wisconsin farm boys and girls will begin arriving in Washington early in the week for the annual encampment of the 4-H clubs. The girls and boys from the farms will live in tents on the grounds of the United States Department of Agriculture, which much resemble a great and beautiful college campus. The annual camp is held to give representative rural youth an opportunity to become better acquainted with the work and facilities of the Department of Agriculture, to study their government at first hand and to confer with representatives of other states on plans and methods for facilitating extension work in agriculture and home economics with farm youth.

A new feature this year will be the awarding of a trophy to the boy and the girl attending camp who have the most outstanding records in 4-H club work.

BLUM IS CONFIRMED
The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Edward J. Blum for reappointment as postmaster at Monticello and Nella A. Fahy to succeed I. J. Riley as postmaster at Wisconsin.

Mrs. Augusta Phalen, who has been serving as acting postmaster at Malone, Fond du Lac county, has been given the regular appointment to succeed Joseph Pickart, deceased.

The following postmasters have been nominated for Wisconsin cities: Monroe V. Frazier, Readstown; Joseph O. Goff, Bristol; Jacob Weed, Hartland; Harry J. Vruwink, Muscoda; and Gunnill S. Peterson, Scandinavia.

The nomination of James N. Titterton as United States marshal for the Eastern District of Wisconsin, will not be acted upon by the Senate until after the summer recess, if there is a summer recess. This nomination is now before a sub-committee of the Senate Judiciary committee consisting of Senators Deneen, Rep. Ill., Blaine, Rep., Wis., and Walsh, Dem., Mont., which will take no action upon it until Senator Blaine returns.

BLAME HEAT FROM LIGHT BULB FOR CLINIC DISASTER

Investigator Doesn't Think Steam Caused Cleveland Explosion

Cleveland, O.—The direct heat of a 100-watt electric light bulb and not the indirect heat of steam under 65 pounds pressure caused the X-ray films in the Cleveland Clinic to ignite and through deadly gases given off take a toll of 136 lives.

That's the opinion that R. D. MacLaurin, commissioner of trade waste, has handed to the coroner as evidence collected through investigation as one of a committee of three appointed by City Manager Hopkins to investigate the cause of one of the most horrible disasters of years.

Two days after the catastrophe MacLaurin and Val Hausmar, electrical engineer, started their investigation. In the film room of the hospital they found ample evidence to high court for the United Press. He underwent a mastoid operation here Wednesday.

Senator John J. Blaine of Boscobel heads a sub-committee which will investigate real estate financing practices in the District of Columbia.

The following Wisconsin men have accepted appointments in the reserve corps of the Army: Arthur Dean Blumenshine, Ripon, first Lieutenant, Dental Corps; Adolph Martinus Olson, Eau Claire, second Lieutenant, Infantry; William Smith, Chippewa Falls, Lieutenant colonel, Cavalry.

Second Lieutenant Alfred Julian Lefstad of Eau Claire, Quartermaster Corps Reserves, will go to Chicago for summer training period June 17-30.

BULB WAS TURNED ON:

In a heap of debris, entangled, buried, they found the bulb. Investigation proved that the light was turned on at the time of the explosion, that the two-way socket above was on and that current at the switch was operating.

The outstanding evidence that the bulb caused the trouble is the fact that a residue baked thereon could only be deposited by the fusion of the bulb with a film." MacLaurin says.

"The supposition is that some one laid the glowing bulb against the wall of the film room, and that the ignition of the nitro-cellulose substance in the film. There is not the slightest possibility that steam could have caused the film to ignite."

"Laboratory tests with the light bulb determined the following conclusions: That the explosion happened and was over in ten minutes; that the direct heat generated by a 100-watt bulb was more than enough to ignite the film and that the hydro-cyanic gas resulting from the film's ignition was in such a quantity that if evenly distributed throughout the 350,000 square feet of the building, it would be in more than sufficient quantity to kill every one in the building."

AUTOMOBILE DRAGGED INTO RIVER BY TRAIN

Automobile Destroyed When It Crashes into Side of Train

Special to Post-Crescent.
New London—While Charles Bonnin, a carpenter here, is bemoaning the loss of his automobile which is a mass of wreckage at the bottom of the river where it was dropped by a freight train, he is congratulating himself that he is alive.

Bonnin drove his car against the side of the freight train standing across County trunk 8, near the Hutton Lumber Co. yards and wedged the front of the machine under the train. While Bonnin and two men who had come up, were trying to pull the car away from the train, the freight cars began moving, dragging the automobile with it. The car was dragged a block to the railroad trestle where it was crushed and finally brushed off into the river, but not without causing considerable damage to the bridge.

ROUNDERS DEFEAT DALE TEAM, 14 TO 7

New London Businessmen Give Financial Support to Team

New London—New London Rounders, an aggregation of high school graduates, defeated a Dale team at Medina Sunday afternoon, 14 to 7. The lineup: Westphal, p.; Burton, c.; Magalske, 1. b.; E. Burton, 2nd base; Housen, 3rd b.; Grace and Graupman, c.; Dornbach, c. f.; Longie, 1. f.

The game was played at Medina because the field at Dale was wet. The next game will be played at the Wilson athletic field at Appleton, between the Rounders and Schlafers of Hardwares.

Because New London has no baseball team to date an effort has been made to help the high school boys, and a recent round of local business houses netted a fund of about $50 which will equip the team. Ray Prahl will act as financial manager of the group, and a schedule will be arranged at an early date.

Madison—(P)—Four enlisted men of the Wisconsin National Guard will be given tests by the state civil service commission with a chance of going to West Point. They will be picked from all those who wish to compete for the honor and training in the national military academy and will be sent, after passing the larger group's tests, to Ft. Sheridan, Ill., for a school that lasts from Sept. 15 to March 12. Then two of the four Badgers will be picked for West Point. The state civil service tests, in which all guardsmen may enter, will be given in selected centers Aug. 10.

BANISH THE CAUSE OF SUFFERING

"Pains in my back and limbs kept me awake at nights," said Mrs. Laura Mittag of 21 Ashland Ave., Oshkosh. Drego proved a God-send when it rid me of the pain and when I could sleep sound the whole night through.

Many folks in this section who suffer from backaches and stiffness and soreness in the limbs, will do well to try Drego. Its quick action is due to the fact that it promptly eliminates the poisons which cause such suffering and hundreds of written statements in our files tell how it brings relief when rheumatic remedies have proven unsuccessful.

FARMERS AND BIG PACKERS JOIN TO BUCK CHAIN STORE

Stock Growers Don't Want Chain Buying to Enter Industry

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1929, by News Press
New York.—The millennium is still far distant but one event has occurred which some observers did not expect to see before that time. Farmers and stock growers are joining with five packers to enable the latter to engage in retail trade. The farmers, growers and packers advocate that this be done by annulment of certain portions of the packers' consent decree which has recently been confirmed by the United States supreme court.

The American National Livestock association has adopted a resolution favoring such modification as would permit the five big packers to sell meats and related lines, and the national wood growers association has gone a step further, and advocated permission to engage in retail sales of meat and unrelated lines. Similar resolutions have been adopted by a score of state associations.

This attitude on the part of the farmers and livestock men is a direct reversal of a former view. The change has come as a move against what they regard as the danger to their industries from the big chain stores. The chain stores, they say, threaten to enter the packing industry.

OPPOSE CHAIN BUYING

Such entry, many of them feel, would work to the detriment of the breeder and feeder. They feel that the chain store business is based on low buying prices, so that meat can be sold cheaply, and on quantity rather than quality in livestock. Such buying, the livestockmen assert, would exert a constantly depressing effect on prices for animals and while it might provide a market for the lower grades, it might seriously interfere with marketing of the higher quality animals.

The higher quality animals would be the policy on which the growers, the federal agricultural authorities and the state authorities have been working for years—namely, to raise fewer cattle and sheep and hogs but to improve the quality of those marketed. There are 34 different grades of beef alone and few retail buyers except the experts can distinguish accurately between them. The emphasis on the cheaper grades alone leads to the sale of cows which normally should be used to build up herds. Some idea of the situation may be gained from an experiment at one of the stockyards recently when of 41,000 head of cattle run through, only 3,600 qualified to furnish the No. 1 and No. 2 beef grades.

The chain store systems now have about 70,000 retail outlets doing an annual business of about $3,000,000,000. They now buy the meat for their butcher departments from the packers but the demand for an extremely low price; so low, the big packers say, that the business means a loss not a profit.

The packers say if they do not sell to them the chain stores threaten to go into the packing business.

Under the consent decree, the five big packers are prohibited from retailing by going into the retail meat field.

The chain stores maintain they are well within the law and their rights in seeking their own sources of supply if existing sources are closed to them or are proved unsatisfactory. The consent decree was a mutual agreement between the five big packers and the government. The big packers have now exhausted all legal methods to have it changed. Any further change must come as a result of a new agreement between the packers and the government and this is what, in effect, the growers and feeders are advocating. They point out that the decree was entered before the passage of the packers and stockyards act, which they hold is sufficient, to control the packers. A new agreement, they assert, opening the retail door to the big packers, would reduce the number of profits taken between the producer of livestock and the consumer of meat.

Some of the retail meat markets would not be adverse to having the big packers enter the retail field and take up the gauge of battle with the chain stores. They take the position that the packers do not want to put the independent dealer out of business, since the packers sell the dealer his meat in most instances. On the other hand, the retail independents find difficulty in competing with the chains since the latter also handle groceries and other lines which aid in lowering overhead expense of meat sales.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

Chapter 11
OUT OF TORRIDITY

THERE was silence for a moment. Lucy's hands fluttered onto my arm and stayed there. MacNair stared at me, a blazing intensity in his eyes.

"No wonder your man wanted the gun," MacNair said harshly.

I nodded. "I suppose so. And yet—if this note from the dead was written in 1898, and it hasn't been disturbed since it was put into the cartridge, how could the man have known it was there?"

Lucy still clung to my arm. "This 'Jerry,' Uncle John isn't... it couldn't be."

"Our Jerry? Hardly! This note was written years ago—probably in 1898. This Alex must be—"

"Peterson himself," MacNair supplied.

"And 'Jerry'?"

"A friend or a relation. Maybe a brother. Ever hear of any one by the name of Jerry being connected with Peterson?"

"No. I wonder who Dillon is—or was."

"The Lord knows! 'Jerry' says he put a bullet into him—a gold bullet, presumably, as one of these shells is empty. And then he scrawled this note and shoved it into the cartridge we found it in."

MacNair nodded. "We must find out where Hyde got it. Do you know what became of Alex Peterson?"

"I don't."

"You said he was an inveterate gambler. It seems to me I remember hearing something about a poker game that cracked the town. In connection with Peterson, I mean."

"A poker game that cracked the town," I muttered. "Yes, the phrase is familiar, but I don't know where I heard it. Peterson is supposed to have once played poker for a human life."

MacNair pondered for a moment. "I suppose we may safely assume this gun belonged to Alex Peterson; he was related to a man called 'Jerry'; a man named Dillon shot 'Jerry' and left him dying; 'Jerry' wounded Dillon, presumably with a gold bullet; and 'Jerry,' dying, wrote this note."

"Do you connect this, and the attempt to steal the pistol, with the murder of Andrew Ogden?" I enquired.

"I wouldn't go so far, yet. Of course, the motive for Andrew Ogden's death may be rooted in something that happened 30 years ago. So may the motive for stealing the pistol."

"In that case," said I, triumphant, "Jerry Ogden couldn't have had a hand in his father's death?"

"Nothing of the sort," MacNair snapped irritably. "Hubbard heard Ogden shout 'gold bullets' at this man Furtie—these bullets are gold—but it doesn't necessarily follow there is a connection. But even if there is, what of it? Jerry's motive for killing his father might have come out of something that happened before he was born. Something to do with that mine, for instance."

A curious idea had come into my head. "What if this man Dillon who killed 'Jerry' should also have killed Andrew Ogden?"

"Why?" MacNair demanded.

I smiled sadly. "Just a vagrant thought. If Dillon knew of the note in this pistol he would have good reason for trying to get it. And if Ogden also had come into possession of the dangerous information it contained—dangerous to Dillon, I mean—you see my drift?"

MacNair shrugged. "Pure speculation. See you later."

I picked up the telephone and called Henry Deacon. There was no word of Jerry and my heart sank. I put the instrument down and looked into Lucy's tragic eyes. She tried to speak but her lips were trembling. Turning, she fled from the room.

Horribly depressed, I sank at my desk and tried to evaluate properly the little we knew. At length I fished a little red-backed notebook out of my desk. I have used many such notebooks in my time. Opening it at the front page I began to write, carefully numbering each paragraph as I went on. When I had written down what was in my mind I felt I had accomplished something after all.

Deacon arrived just then and we discussed the note and the incident that led to its discovery. His amazement was as great as my own, but, like MacNair, he made it clear that a voice echoing out of the comparative antiquity of 1898 would not modify his theories to any extent. My odd fancy that the man Dillon mentioned in the note might have killed Andrew didn't impress him.

He left me, then, taking the pistol and the note with him and I went to my room and dressed. Coming out, I ran into Mrs. Moffit. She looked ill and I didn't wonder.

Mrs. Moffit is never very well and I have suggested domestic help to her at least once a week, but she scolds the idea. Her trouble is an internal something or other of mysterious origin and perambulating habits. But she steadfastly refuses to have it removed. She has tried New Thought, Divine Healing, Episcopalianism, Spinal Manipulation, Disciples of the Fiery Ring, Physical Culture, Olive Oil, and the New Psychology—everything in fact but simple surgery. Recently she embraced Cosmic Indulgence.

As I entered the Ogden library, Deacon and MacNair were sitting at the desk, talking. On the desk was a deck of playing cards, a lead bullet, a piece of gold-bearing quartz, a small black-bound notebook, and three stacks of red poker chips.

"The chips, the cards, and the notebook were in that safe over there," Deacon said. "The quartz and the bullet," he went on, "were in the desk."

The cards and the chips astonished me. "Henry," I said, "do you happen to recall Andrew's attitude towards cards?"

"Of course I do. He detested them. He would not have them in the house."

MacNair grinned ironically. "Know anything about gold quartz?" he asked suddenly.

"No," I said. "I picked up the specimen. 'It looks rich.'"

"Rich?" MacNair grunted. "It's rotten with gold. That bit'll run ten, twenty, thirty thousand to the ton."

I whistled. "Sounds like a big strike."

He nodded. "But here's the queerest thing of the lot," MacNair said the black notebook towards me. (Copyright, 1929, Wm. Morrow Co.)

Ogden's black notebook! What new mystery will it bring into the situation? The answer is in tomorrow's instalment.

YES, I DON'T THINK THE BARBER. Good morning, sir! Your face seems familiar. I've seen you before, or someone very much like you.

HIS CUSTOMER: Well, I've never seen you before—or else it's someone else very much like you I've never seen before.—Answers.

NEW BAUMES LAW IN PENNSYLVANIA AVOIDS DEFECTS

Makes Life Term for Fourth Offenders Optional With Judge

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington — One of the most important results of the investigation of the Pennsylvania State Crime Commission was the recent passage by the legislature of a modified Baumes law providing for heavy penalties for second and subsequent offenders and life imprisonment for fourth convictions of higher felonies at the discretion of the judge.

Mandatory life sentences had caused most of the criticism of the Baumes law in New York, and Pennsylvania profited by experience. "On all sides," the crime commission decided at the outset, "there is a general agreement that the administration of the criminal laws and the present status of criminal procedure throughout the United States and in Pennsylvania in particular, is not adequately meeting the problems with which it is confronted by the new phases of criminality and the new kinds of criminals."

TWO ERAS IN CONFLICT

The commission also quoted with approval a statement of Dean Roscoe Pound of the Harvard Law School, one of the strongest members of the Hoover commission. Dean Pound's summary of the situation is this:

"A highly developed system of substantive law and a specialized machinery of prosecution, administration, judicial organization, legal procedure and panel treatment, devised and shaped for pioneer, rural, agricultural America of the first half of the nineteenth century, are struggling with the wholly different conditions of the urban, industrial society of today. In the huge cities which have grown up all over the country in a generation the ill adaptation of the machinery to the task is acute."

The commission could not convince itself that courts should be compelled to sentence fourth offenders to life imprisonment. It asserted: "It is as true that same men should be imprisoned for life after the first offense as unregenerate criminals as it is true that other men after the commission of their fourth offense should not be locked up for the balance of their natural lives."

In addition to making the fourth offense a sentence discretionary with the judge, the law which the legislature passed on its recommendation makes the propriety of such a sentence reviewable by a higher court. For second and third major offenses, it provided the convicted man may be sentenced to a term not more than twice as long as the maximum for first offense. The "major offenses" covered by these provisions include treason, murder, voluntary manslaughter, burglary, entering with intent to steal, robbery, arson, mayhem, kidnapping, sale of narcotics, perjury, abortion and offenses committed with deadly weapons.

Most of all, the crime commission laid stress on firearms legislation. "To provide 'bandit-chasing squads of police' to establish 'bandit courts' and to impose extraordinary sentences on the comparatively few gunmen who are brought to trial," the commission reported, "is, when viewed in the light of what little has been accomplished against the so-called gunmen, very much like locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen."

More than 12,000 persons lost their lives through acts of violence in 1925, the commission says, 10 murders to every 100,000 inhabitants as against five per 100,000 in 1900. Seventy-five per cent were committed by professional criminals in cold blood and the revolver or sawed-off shotgun was the principal weapon used. The increase in the proportion of gun murders has been large and steady.

GUNS EASY TO BUY

A dealer in firearms, located in the busiest street in Philadelphia, was found to have sold over 100 machine guns, that could fire more than a hundred bullets a minute, without taking receipts or making any record of buyers.

The commission recommended an act, with the hope that similar laws would be adopted in other states, which would prohibit manufacture, sale, importation, possession and transfer of machine guns, automatic rifles, shotguns, silencers and other deadly weapons, prohibit carrying of firearms in automobiles as well as on the person, prohibit aliens and convicted criminals from carrying commission of violent crimes while armed with increasingly severe penalties; confiscate and destroy all unlicensed firearms and license all firearms as well as their sales. The legislature has recently adjourned without passing this bill.

REPUBLICANS IN NEW YORK SEEKING FUSION CANDIDATE

Task of Selecting Opponent Against Mayor Walker Isn't Easy

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1929, By Cons. Press
New York — Who'll bell the cat? — or the tiger, as the case may be. With the republican city convention set for August 1, leaders have been unable to find any fusion candidate for mayor against Mayor Walker, who unquestionably will receive the backing of Tammany, and the tiger is resting peacefully, but alertly, on the municipal doorstep, with no very alarming chance of being disturbed for some time to come.

Charles H. Curry, appointed leader of Tammany six weeks ago, is a fast but careful worker. Without noise or friction, in the manner of the late Charles F. Murphy, he has pulled together a somewhat disaffected organization, started his scouts working in the remote, crumbling boroughs, disciplined a few recalcitrant braves, and brought the outfit back to old-fashioned fighting trim.

The late and memorable excitement — "the name is Smith" — in which the new Tammany was whelped, seems to be a tale that is told, if there were, or are, disturbing forces tending to upset the traditional political control of New York City and shift the state in the national political line-up, they do not appear either on the surface or in the under-tow. The lines of political demarcation appear to be just about what they were before the last presidential campaign.

AMENITY FAILED

The Republicans have been abundantly supplied with ammunition, but most of their big salvos have been duds. Early in December, Kingsland Mace, chairman of the Suffolk county republican committee, tried to shove the Rothstein case in the legislature, possibly recalling the fact that it was the prosecution of the killers of Herman Rosenthal which made Charles S. Whitman governor of New York, 16 years ago. At the same time, U. S. Attorney Charles H. Tuttle was ballooned for mayor, he having done some excellent work in the federal end of the Rothstein case. But the move to the legislature got side tracked and the talk about Mr. Tuttle subsided.

The Queens sewer scandal and the street cleaning scandal also looked like good political material, but nothing much was done with them. The bankruptcy scandal was too much of a nonpartisan affair for political usage. And now Governor Roosevelt has spooled the City Trust company investigation, so far as political purposes are concerned, by appointing supreme court Justice James C. Cropley as committing magistrate. Justice Cropley is not only a republican, but a jurist of unassailable integrity. His appointment was made just as the bank crash, involving millions, had been singled out as "Grade A" political ammunition. Frank H. Warder, former state superintendent of banks, has been arrested on felony charges, but Justice Cropley's appointment assures an honest and diligent prosecution, and it doesn't look as if the republicans could make much out of this.

It is true that the new subways are still on paper, and that, with the middle of the equitable bus franchise, the new bus lines are still to come. The republicans and fusionist leaders have noted all this, but so far no candidate has been found with much of a chance of beating Mayor Walker, now firmly entrenched behind the five-cent fare, and still posing the shining lance of his own engaging personality.

TALK UP MRS. PRATT

It is quite possible that Congresswoman Ruth Pratt may be picked as the Joan of Arc of the republicans. Mrs. Pratt is an alumnae of Welles-

New York — Coming events cast their shadows before it is said. It is so, the autumn coats are due to have flared skirts and fitted bodices and sleeves which either distend into a sort of rouch effect over the elbow or have draped cuffs or those of the mousquetaire pattern. These tendencies are already apparent on the light summer coats to a mild extent.

The vogue for the yellow and orange shades in dress may call into fashion some costume jewelry of other and contrasting colors. It has been found that yellow alone needs something to relieve it. This, the jewelers say, may be furnished by rather heavy and ornate bracelets and necklaces of stones like jade, lapis lazuli, peridot and olivine. If the white jewelry, such as diamonds, crystals or quartz, is worn it goes best with orange when furnished with a black onyx background.

"You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours," is a reciprocal agreement which is in full vogue between the dressmakers and the milliners. The small collars have given way to the long backed hats which cover the neck. But if a back may be scratched, a neck may not, and to avoid discomfort the wearer of these long hats are now being lined with grosgrain ribbon. Most of the long-backed hats are developed in fine Baku straw.

When You Borrow $100 You GET $100

Frequently two or three hundred dollars extra will clear up a lot of scattered bills and provide funds for needed purchases. Here is a friendly, easy plan to secure the money you need without delay.

$100 • $200 • $300 at Reduced Rate

The Household Plan provides immediate funds on the easiest of terms—twenty months to repay, and a reduction of nearly one-third in rate. Under this plan, the new low rate is as follows:

- $100 loan, average monthly cost $1.32
- $200 loan, average monthly cost $2.63
- $300 loan, average monthly cost $3.94

How We Make Loans

A $100 loan is payable $5.00 per month, plus interest. The first month, the interest charge is $2.50 and the last month it is only 13 cents. The average monthly cost is $1.32. Other amounts in proportion.

You Get the Entire Amount

There are no fees or deductions. If loans are repaid sooner than twenty months, the total cost is less. Loans are made to families, and no outside signers are required.

RAILS AND OILS LEAD N. Y. STOCKS TO HIGHER LEVELS

Advance Started Last Week
Is Resumed; Easing Credit
Aids Bulls

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York (AP)—Stock prices resumed their upward movement today with the railroad and oil shares assuming increasing importance and strength. Trading in the General list also broadened considerably, with at least a score of issues pushed into new high ground for the year. A few soft spots cropped out here and there but they failed to stem the upward tide of prices.

Call money renewed unchanged at 7 per cent, and bankers predicted that the rate might hold until the middle of the week when the return of June 15 checks for payment at the banks probably would cause a stiffening in rates. There was no change in time money or commercial paper rates, but the undertone appeared to be slightly easier. Wall Street looks for a relaxation in federal reserve credit policy prior to the heavy late summer and fall demand for funds in connection with the movement of crops.

Business news over the week-ends was generally favorable. No indications of any sharp recession in the production of basic industries has yet made its appearance. Most of the earnings statements now being published continue to make favorable comparison with the corresponding period a year ago, and the financial district is flooded with favorable merger and dividend reports. The annual dividend on Canada Dry Ginger Ale was increased from $4 to $5.

Indications of a further curtailment of California production probably stimulated the demand for the oil shares. Houston ran up 7 1/4 points and American Republics, Shell, and several other advanced a point or two. Atlantic Refining and Lago sold at new highs for the year.

General Electric soared 10 points to another new high at 305. Columbia Carbon ran up more than 5 points to a new top at 174 1/2. Detroit, Standard Gas & Electric and Consolidated Gas also broke through their previous top prices. Commonwealth Power ran into heavy profit-taking, and dropped 4 1/2 points before the selling was checked. Union Tank Car fell 1 point. Auburn Auto to 4 1/2 and Pittsburgh & West Virginia, Allied Chemical and Superior Steel dropped 3 to 3 1/2.

Profit-taking in the copper, alcohol and utilities shares late in the day was counterbalanced by the vigorous buying of U. S. Steel, American Can and the Electrical and Chemical issues. Commercial Solvents and Allied Chemical improved 7 1/2 points each, Allis Chalmers 3 and Otis Elevator 3. U. S. Steel crossed 179. Commonwealth Power dropped 12 to 230. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 3,400,000 shares.

An owl's flight is noiseless.

GOOD FED BEEVES ADVANCE IN PRICE

Medium to Common and Grassy Cattle Work Lower from Start, However

Chicago (AP)—Further application of the divergent views of buyers on the value of good fed beef and the rank and file of medium to common and grassy cattle, caused the breach in prices between these two classifications to widen. High grade grain fattened stock commanded the interest of buyers from the start and strong prices were quoted, with several loads held at prices above the previous top for the season. On the plainer grades it was a dull session, with bids lower from the start. Fresh receipts of 18,000 included no direct billings.

Hog prices recovered part of the losses suffered late last week, initial trading being a dime higher than the scale which was current on the final session. Packers reported 17,000 hogs received on direct billing out of the estimated supply of 45,000 all of which arrived in good season before the opening of the market. Only 2,000 state hogs were carried over from the previous week. Choice lights reached $11.35 early, most of the trading taking place within a range of $11.10 to $11.30.

Sheep receipts of 10,000 carried 3,000 lambs direct to packing plants, leaving only 7,000 available for competitive action. Substantially higher prices were wanted and trading got under way on a strong to 25c higher basis.

WHEAT PRICES ARE LOWER WITH WORD OF KANSAS HARVEST

Heavy Rains in Canada Also Help to Give Values a Heavy Setback

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago (AP)—With newly harvested wheat beginning to arrive in Kansas City, and Canada reporting an inch or more of rain, wheat values underwent a heavy setback today. For the first time in a long while, Washington legislative developments cut little or no figures as an immediate market influence. Further moisture was forecast for Canada, and much notice was taken today to day's receipts of wheat in the southwest were on a large scale, 296 cars reaching Kansas City today against 75 cars a year ago, and 129 cars at St. Louis compared with 34 cars last year.

In connection with word of moisture relief for the wheat crop in Canada, indications that Winnipeg traders were selling future delivery contracts here did much at times to depress about lower prices for wheat. Reports of high temperatures in Canada induced some buying but for the most part had only a transient effect. Meanwhile, Kansas advices told of wheat ripening rapidly, and predicted that much of the Kansas crop would be harvested this week.

Sensitiveness of the wheat market here regarding the Canadian crop situation was related to reports which have been current that owing to abnormal dryness this season in Canada heavy rains would be necessary before the middle of July or else a crop scare of unusual extent would develop. According to advices at hand, heavy rains are also required in the eastern provinces of Australia. On the other hand, Liverpool wheat quotations displayed relative strength and stocks of wheat were diminishing. With the amount of wheat on ocean passage showing likewise a material curtailment compared with a week ago.

MOTORS, OILS MAY PROVE PROFITABLE IN LONG DEALINGS

Purchases Should Be Moderate, However, Financial Expert Warns

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES
Copyright, 1929, By Cons. Press
New York—Simply because it is undesirable under present circumstances to buy securities with borrowed money it does not follow that funds cannot be advantageously used to acquire small lots of stocks or bonds for cash outright.

In the preceding article the opportunities along this line in the bond market were sketched. Now let us look over the common stock field. In the first place we find the average price level is high, not quite at the peak but high compared with record of the past. The chances are if one buys even with discrimination one will see some depreciation in market price temporarily. Still this is not a serious matter if one is buying for permanent holding.

Among the various groups of stocks actively traded in on the New York Stock Exchange none sell on a higher price earnings ratio than the public utilities. This is partly because of the steadily increasing earnings these companies show and partly because of the manner in which the speculative imagination has been stimulated by the organization of holding companies of one kind or another. They ought to be ruled out of investment consideration at this price level.

Then there are the stocks of companies engaged in new enterprises of which the most important is the airplane industry. There are too speculative for our purposes. Railroad stocks are entitled to an investment rating and their price is not excessive. Probably conservative purchases here are warranted but there is little chance of long term price appreciation for the reason that the railroads are limited as to earnings by public regulation and their possibilities of expansion are likewise limited.

This leaves the general run of industrials and among these price inflation is the rule. The most striking exceptions are in the motors and in the oils. The former are in disfavor speculatively speaking but there is no greater modern necessity than the automobile and the stock of the successful producer is an attractive investment. The oil trade is suffering from over-production but

SPRING ENCOURAGES TRUANCY IN SCHOOLS

Spring fever increased the number of truants in May almost to the 50 mark, according to the monthly report of J. G. Pfeil, city truant officer. The absence of 31 boys and girls was investigated by Mr. Pfeil, and it was discovered that eight were actual truants. 21 cases were due to parental negligence, and 19 were the result of other causes. One case of destitution was found. No cases were brought into court. Over one hundred calls were made, 15 of which were at schools.

SAVES OWN DAUGHTER

New York—Lieut. M. F. McQuade of the Yonkers Fire Department recently received a call to assist two men in lifting a large steel door off a child it had fallen on and pinned beneath. He hurried to the scene of the accident and on raising the door, found the child to be his own daughter, Eileen. She suffered a concussion of the brain, but was expected to recover.

ASSEMBLY PASSES SIX PRISON BILLS

Proposal Would Permit Persons, Wrongfully Jailed, to Collect from State

Madison—(P)—Four prison bills have been passed by the assembly. One, by Assemblyman E. M. Rowlands, Cambria, allows the state board of control, with a consent of the state treasurer and governor, to use money derived from prison industries for the improvement and development of prison property. At present all money derived from prison industries is paid into the general fund.

Another bill, by Assemblyman M. J. Mersch, Stevens Point, provides for an appropriation of $35,000 from the revolving fund for the construction and equipment of a new shop at the state prison where auto license plates, highway markers, street signs and similar articles are manufactured.

A bill by Assemblyman E. D. Hall, Tunnel City, allows the board of control to manufacture rope at the state prison.

The fourth bill by Assemblyman Wallace Ingalls, Racine, allows persons who were wrongfully imprisoned as far back as May, 1913, to recover compensation from the state. Ingalls has introduced this bill at several previous sessions and it has been defeated.

All of these bills now go to the senate. The assembly refused to concur in the senate resolution for appointment of a joint legislative committee to confer with committees and officials of Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and Missouri regarding uniform conservation, forestry, game and fish laws.

The assembly unanimously passed a motion by Assemblyman W. H. Edwards, Waukesha-co, granting use of the assembly chamber for the La Follette rites on Sunday in case of stormy weather.

New Way To Improve Skin

A wonderful discovery is the new French process which gives MELLO-GLO Face Powder its unparalleled smoothness and makes it stay on longer. The purest powder made—its color is tested. Never gives a pasty or flaky look! Will not irritate or clog the pores! Its youthful bloom says on longer. Remember the name—MELLO GLO. adv.

Better Fishing Coming When Weather Warms Up

BY B. A. CLAFLIN
This season so far has been somewhat cold and backward for the best of trout fishing and although I have received many requests for advice on where to go I have been forced to qualify my replies a bit by saying that the fishing will be better just as soon as warm weather comes to stay. Personally, I have so far deferred visiting the streams I shall speak of for the reason set forth. From now on, however, the fisherman may safely fare forth and he will get fish according to how he is equipped, barring, of course, unusually bad weather conditions.

Just talked with two fishermen who recently returned from a trip to the Pappie and Pine rivers. They had a fine catch, which was due principally to the fact that they are expert fly casters and know the right kind of tackle to use. On the Pappie they took some real fish, and they used Web's flies exclusively which accounted for their good luck.

Last season two of us had a great trip, to the streams mentioned. For the benefit of my reader: in general and as a reply to many who are writing me daily in reference to the proper flies to use on the various streams, let me say that the first two days we spent on the Pappie we landed a dandy catch of Speckled beauties measuring up to fifteen inches.

After leaving the Pappie we hit the Pine river, and here we enjoyed some of the finest fly fishing that we ever had. We caught numerous fish from ten to twelve inches on the following flies: Gray Drake, Grizzly King, Trude, Professor, March Brown, Silver Doctor and Key Perce.

These are wonderful go-getters. We had other flies of different makes and we caught some trout on a few of them, but no large ones. In fact, practically all the fish we took were landed on the flies I am mentioning. I have found that success in trout fishing follows the proper selection of flies, and therefore I am specifying them for the benefit of my readers who perhaps may not have the time or opportunity to experiment with enough to learn as they should know as to their real value as fish takers.

We hit the Pine river near Florence and fished down stream for days, camping at night where we pleased. On certain days we confined ourselves to certain types and makes of flies. The second day of our start we used exclusively Web's Humdingers in the following patterns: Beauty, Gray Hackle, Colonel Fuller, Grouse, Olive Quill, Partridge and we took trout on all of them and invariably good ones, therefore I am passing along what we learned. The next day we tried other makes, but I must say our success was poor.

The Pine is a wonderful stream—plenty of trout, as trout go nowadays—the best of water, fast and still as you wish, but get the flies I have specified if you want fish. You can wade or use a boat as you please. I might suggest that you call on Fred Olin at Florence. He is a past master of trout fishing and is always glad to give directions to anyone. He is strictly reliable.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated. In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice, he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with psyllium. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and placed it on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a public success as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us it helped when everything else failed.

J. C. Caldwell, M.D.
AT AGE 83

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, its mild, gentle action is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly. Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
